PAULEY, GUILTY OF FORGERY, TO SERVE 3 YEARS

Leading Figure in "Straw Bond" Case Still Faces 13 Other Indictments.

JURY FINDS A VERDICT

Punishment Fixed by Body in Court of Judge Fisher Thursday.

WOMEN ARE INVOLVED

Bogus Wife of Ebbeler Figures in Testimony Against Members of Band.

Dr. Edward B. Pauley, charged with being the leader of a band of "straw bond" operators, was found guilty of forgery in the third degree by a jury in Judge Fisher's court Thursday and his punishment was fixed at three years in the Penitentiary.

The specific charge on which he was convicted was that he induced Charles Younglove to sign the name, "Roy Diesing," to an appeal bond for James Gibson, charged with gambling.

There are 13 other indictments pending against Pauley. Of these one charges perjury, two subornation, two forgery in the first degree and eight forgery in the third degree.

Crooks Gain Their Liberty.

These indictments cover Pauley's alleged connection with the straw bonds on which Thomas Dore and Charles Arnold, street-car pickpockets, and "Kid" Burke, bank sneak, were enabled to gain their liberty.

Younglove, Frank Ebbeler and Frank J. Phillips, also under indictments for forgery and perjury, have aided the Circuit Attorney in his efforts to convict Pauley as leader of the gang.

None of the women alleged to have been active in the conspiracy appeared as witnesses at the trial.

Money Paid for Signatures.

Younglove testified that he had signed six bogus bonds at the instance of Pauley, and that for this service he received $22. Ebbeler and Phillips also took the stand and told how Pauley had employed them to sign straw bonds. Ebbeler received $30 and Phillips a promise of $25 for their connection with the "Kid" Burke bond, they testified.

The case against Pauley practically was made when Younglove took the stand and told freely how he had posed as Roy Diesing in obtaining the release of Gibson, a negro craps shooter. Though he owned no property, he said, he represented himself as the owner of real estate worth $25,000. He was induced to do this by Pauley, who told him the deception would never be found out.

Caught in Illinois.

When the exposure came, following the escape of "Kid" Burke, Younglove, still following Pauley's advice, ran away. He was caught at Stallings, Ill.

Though the indictment on which Pauley was tried was based on this one offense, evidence as to the "Kid" Burke and other bogus bonds was introduced to show that Pauley was the leader of a gang of forgers.

Gives Witness a "Wife."

Ebbeler testified that Pauley went to him with a strange woman and said: "Ebbeler, I want to introduce you to your wife." The three then went to a notary public before whom the bogus Mrs. Ebbeler acknowledges a deed to property which was to be given as security for Kid Burke's release.

Phillips testified to having received this deed to a house on Blackstone avenue. After he had signed the bond, he said, he transferred the property back to Mrs. Ebbeler. In qualifying on the bond Phillips, according to his testimony, swore that he was worth $8000 when, in fact, all of his property holdings were represented by the forged deed which was then in his pocket.

IN PLEADING GUILTY, THIEF IMPLICATES ALLEGED "FENCE"

Vance Says He Sold $5163 of Stolen Goods to Mintz for $75.

Samuel Mintz, 2815 Gamble street, was arrested Thursday by Detectives Callahan and Rodgers, after Charles Vance, in pleading guilty to burglary, before Judge Williams, accused Mintz of conducting a "fence" for stolen goods.

Vance, besides pleading guilty to robbing the home of Mrs. Kate Castleman, 2693 Lindell boulevard, said that three months ago he stole $5163 worth of goods from Barnett's tailoring establishment, 1436 Olive street, and sold the loot to Mintz for $75.

Mintz denies the charge, alleging that Vance made up the story, in the hope of having his sentence of three years in the Penitentiary shortened.

TOO MANY FAT WOMEN KEEP HIM FROM HIS WIFE

"Lonely" Who Can't Stand Her Absence Wires Police to Hunt for Spouse.

ALL FIT DESCRIPTION

Trio of Large Passengers Puts Station Squad in a Quandary.

Jim McCaslin of New Truxton, Mo., 64 miles west of St. Louis, after 12 years of married life, became so lonely when his wife left home for the first time since the wedding that he wired to the police to send her back when she arrived in St. Louis on a shopping trip.

Here is his pathetic telegram:

"Police, Union Station: Send large woman who will get off Burlington train No. 22 back to New Truxton on first train. JIM McCASLIN."

Not Afraid to Go Home in the Dark.

According to the lone-distance telephone message to the Post-Dispatch from Truxton, McCaslin accompanied his wife to the train when she departed Wednesday afternoon.

He strolled about town for an hour, complaining to many friends that he was lonely.

"My wife is going to be away overnight and I don't know what I'll do."

"Are you afraid to go home in the dark?" asked Druggist Drunert.

"No, not exactly, but she's never been away before and I don't care to stay in the house by myself."

After wandering about the streets some more McCaslin said:

"Well, boys, it's no use. I'm going to get her back as quick as I can." He hurried to the telegraph office.

Too Many "Great Big" Women.

His message was handed to Sergt. Meehan and Patrolman Murphy of the Union Station squad just before the Burlington train arrived from Truxton.

"It's a cinch," they said. "All we've got to do is watch for a great big woman."

When the train pulled in a 200-pound woman stepped from the rear coach. Meehan and Murphy were about to stop when they caught sight of a much larger woman who left the second coach.

On their way to reach her they stumbled over another fat woman. While they were trying to decide which of them answered the description all got away.

So if Mrs. McCaslin wants to see the directoire gowns and the merry widow hats she may do so undisturbed by the police or by the thought that her husband is lonely.

BIZ. E. METER GETS DIPLOMA AND WILL USE VACATION TO WATCH FESTIVE KILOWATT

Biz. E. Meter was graduated last night. He is now ready to go forth into the great world and do the people good. In his valedictory address he told his classmates that he will go right to work and will be busy throughout the vacation season. No grass will grow under his feet and the kilowatt that escapes him will have to get up early.

Here is the diploma:

Partly cloudy and warmer, with light showers, late Thursday night or Friday; southeast to south winds.

The river stage is 30.3, a rise of .1. The special forecast is: The Missouri below Kansas City and the Mississippi between Alton and Chester will rise. The Mississippi between Hannibal and Grafton will remain stationary and the Illinois will fall. The stage at St. Louis will be 28 feet Sunday or Monday.

DYING SENATOR KILLS RACING IN N. Y. BY HIS VOTE

Otto Foelker of Brooklyn Comes to Chamber Half-Dazed; Result 26 to 25.

DEATH BLOW TO SPORT

Grady and McCarren Lead the Opposition Forces at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 11.—A legislative battle, which, for dramatic interest and intensity of feeling on both sides, rarely if ever has been equaled in this State, came to an end today, when the heroism of Senator Otto G. Foelker of Brooklyn made it possible to place upon the statute books two bills, repealing the legal discrimination which for 13 years has protected public gambling within racetrack inclosures, while it was a felony elsewhere in this State. The vote on each of the bills was 26 to 25.

The line-up in general was the same as that in the regular session, when the bills failed of passage by a tie-up, 25 to 23. Since then Senator Wallace of Niagara Falls has been elected to the seat then vacant by reason of the death of Senator Franchout, and his vote made the necessary 26th.

Severe Tax on Strength.

Senator Foelker, who underwent an operation May 10 for appendicitis, and whose condition for much of the intervening time was critical, came up from Staatsburg last evening, the journey of 60 miles being a severe tax upon his strength.

He was somewhat stronger today and was taken to the Senate chamber just as the roll on a dilatory motion was being called. He was plainly suffering from weakness, and his response when his name was reached was scarcely audible.

The second bills amends the racing law known as the Percy-Gray law, by abolishing betting anywhere, within or without a racetrack inclosure. Both bills will take effect as soon as signed by Gov. Hughes.

The victory of the Hughes adherents in the Senate was marked by bitter debate and charges of bribery in half a dozen instances. Senators Thomas F. Grady and Patrick H. McCarren were the chief opponents of the bill.

Comes to Albany Dazed.

In the care of Dr. Murphy and a nurse, Senator Foelker came here aboard the Western Express last night. He suffered an attack of nausea when carried on the train at Staatsburg and was bundled into a stateroom. The attending physician was compelled to administer an opiate to put him to sleep. The Senator was in a comatose state.

A throng of Senators and half a dozen porters with stretchers and an invalid chair waited for the patient at the Albany depot. Foelker was awakened with difficulty and in the arms of two stalwart men was lifted to the platform.

Senator Agnew, introducer of the anti-racetrack gambling bill, shouted: "Hello, Otto! We have a chair here for you."

Foelker gave no sign whatever of recognition of his colleague. He all but fell out of the chair several times while being wheeled to a carriage.

Seems Bewildered in Senate.

In the Senate today, When Foelker's name was called, he looked bewildered, said hesitatingly "What is it?" and did not answer until three or four names had been called. Then, in a muffled tone, he answered.

"How does Senator Foelker vote?" asked the Assistant Clerk, who was calling the roll.

"Yes," replied the Senator, and then sank back in his seat.

The bill was thus carried.

McCausland came from Los Angeles and had been traveling for Armour & Co.

Miss Harrison was well known in San Francisco, having sang at Tait's, as well as in New York.

Kidnaping Plot Fails.

Desperate efforts were made to delay the Senator's appearance at the Capitol, and had it not been for the alertness of Senator Foraker's numerous friends, the vote might have been different. While Dr. Murphy, Foelker's physician, and Canon Chase of Brooklyn were away from the house three men drove up in an automobile.

One, representing himself as a doctor, gained entrance to Foelker's room and said that he had been sent to convey the sick man to the Capitol. The nurse, suspecting a plot to kidnap the Senator, declared that Foelker would not leave unless accompanied by his physician and Canon Chase. While the argument was on, both Chase and Murphy entered the room and ordered the alleged doctor out. He left hurriedly, and, with the others, disappeared in the automobile.

MANY MEN ARE RUNNING FOR SECOND PLACE, SOME FROM IT

Stars From the Passing Political Show in Chicago; Some Who Are Booming and One Who Is Being Boomed.

St. Louisan is Mentioned for Vice-President But Chicago Paper Spells His Name Wrong—Hughes Champion Runner from Nomination.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 11.—If some handy man from the West would come along with a lasso and rope an acceptable vice-presidential nominee, the powers that be in the Republican organization would make him a foreign ambassador or something else equally nice.

That and the platform building are the two things left for the convention crowd to be interested in today. The presidential race itself is devoid of thrills, because at the close of yesterday's committee meeting Secretary Taft had 509 delegates tied down with instructions. That is 18 more than enough to nominate on the first ballot and 88 more probably will be added to his list today and tomorrow in the contests.

Hughes Champion Runner.

But a Vice President thoroughly acceptable to all concerned just will not be caught. Gov. Hughes started running away months ago and now is the longest-winded runner on earth. The Taft leaders, including President Roosevelt, have in the last week been boosting the name of Senator Dolliver of Iowa, but he has got into the Hughes class as a fugitive.

Vice-President Fairbanks is still in the talked-of class and would be acceptable to Secretary Taft, although President Roosevelt has no love for the Indianan. But Mr. Fairbanks is faster running away from the vice-presidency than running for the presidency.

This leaves Secretary of Treasury Cortelyou as the only much-talked-of man who is not running away. He is willing and has strong backing. He is still the bet of the convention crowd. President Roosevelt is his strongest opponent, but the President is not coming into the open. He simply refuses to stand up and be counted in the Cortelyou ranks.

Secretary Taft would like Secretary Cortelyou as a running mate. Taft's manager, Hitchcock, is a pupil of Cortelyou and outspoken in his favor. Many of the national committeemen, notably Thomas J. Akins of St. Louis, have been "rooting" for Cortelyou.

Next to Cortelyou stands Gov. Curtis Guild of Massachusetts, who will be nominated by Senator Lodge, the President's friend, for second place.

Some Not Running Away.

There are a lot of other men who are not running away, but who cannot get places of vantage. John Hays Hammond, the mining expert, has some Western support from mining States. But the leaders so do not consider him seriously.

Former Lieutenant-Governor Timothy Woodruff of New York and two of the New York Congressmen, James S. Sherman and J. Sloat Fassett, also have booms that are getting Eastern encouragement. New Jersey is in the game with two candidates, Gov. Fort and former Gov. Franklin Murphy.

Missouri got two names into the list this morning. They are Senator Warner and Charles Nagel of St. Louis. Mr. Nagle has the honor of shooting up into the vice-presidential class quicker than anybody else. He arrived in Chicago yesterday morning and today took Mr. Akins' proxy on the National Committee. His slim, six-foot figure speedily attained prominence in the crowd and everybody was asking the name of the "distinguished looking man in gray."

This morning the result was apparent when a newspaper named Mr. Nagel in the vice-presidential list. But it spelled his name "Nagle," instead of "Nagel." Mr. Nagel and the other Missourians were completely surprised by his boom. He is an intimate friend of Secretary Taft's.

California has two booms of the same

CROWD SEES QUEEN OF DANCE HALL MURDERED

Nan Harrison's Slayer Kills Himself Before Reno Men Get to Him.

RENO, Nev., June 11.—Nan Harrison, known as Queen of the Reno dance-hall singers, was shot and killed by a jealous admirer, Edward McCausland, who then killed himself.

The tragedy occurred toward the close of the performance at the largest dance hall in Reno last night. The singer was bowing to an applauding throng of miners when the bullet, fired from a seat near the stage, pierced her heart.

Before the angry men could seize the slayer, he had turned his weapon on himself, inflicting a wound from which he soon after died.

GIRL AVENGER'S VICTIM IS DYING IN MEMPHIS

"I have No Son," Is Mother's Comment on Daughter's Act.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 11.—While J. T. Lowe lies at the point of death at a Memphis hospital, Mrs. Una Mai Weinstein, the girl bride who yesterday shot him down on the streets of Tunica, Miss., to avenge the killing of her father, J. M. Houston, by Lowe, two months ago, is hysterical at her mother's home, under guard and a physician's care.

She is 19 and is but a year from the Presbyterian College at Holly Springs. She enjoys the reputation of being a refined and cultured girl. The man she shot is a graduate of the University of Mississippi and is a prominent attorney.

The boy, Isa Weinstein, 14, undoubtedly prevented the girl's second shot from finding a human mark. Back of all is the bloody scene of a few weeks ago, when the father of the girl was slain.

Mrs. Houston was asked what prompted her daughter to shoot Lowe.

"Well, he killed her father, didn't he?" she said and added with grim significance, "You know I have no sons."

14-INNING GAME KEEPS PITCHER'S BRIDE WAITING

Cupid Forced to Take Seat on the Bleachers Until Twirler Wins Contest.

DES MOINES, Io., June 11.—Pitcher Bomar of the Des Moines Western League baseball team, was kept from his appointment to marry Miss Nola Koons of Decatur, Ill., here because the contest with Pueblo, in which he was pitching, extended thirteen innings. He had planned he would have time to win his game and meet his bride.

The score was tied by the visitors in the ninth inning and he was forced to remain in the box. Victory at last perched on the bridegroom's side and he won the battle, 4 to 3.

Meanwhile an anxious bride-elect and wedding party were waiting. They were patient, however, and after his remarkable victory he faced the minister at last.

RIVER MYSTERY SUSPECT IS IN ILLINOIS JAIL

Coroner Streeper of Alton Is Called to Hillsboro to Face Prisoner.

HAD FIGHT WITH WOMEN

One of the Combatants Hit Him on the Head With an Ax.

BORNE OUT BY LETTER

Crucifix and Scapular Like Those Found on Body in McGill's Possession.

Coroner Streeper of Alton was summoned to Hillsboro, Ill., Thursday by Sheriff Bray of Montgomery County, who has come to believe that Henry McGill, a prisoner in the Hillsboro Jail, may know something of the identity of the woman whose body was found in the Mississippi River below Alton two weeks ago.

McGill has been in Jail at Hillsboro for the past 10 days, having been arrested with two women after a fight in which he had injured them both, and in which one of them had struck him on the head with an ax, inflicting a scalp wound.

Both Have Bones Broken.

The women were held two days, then released, and left Hillsboro with the horse and wagon which, they said, had been the cause of their quarrel with the man. One, whose left arm was broken by the man, said her name was Angie Freeman; the other, one of whose ribs was fractured, said she was Stella Bloempal.

Although the charge against McGill was assault to kill, the women, who were the only witnesses against him, were permitted to leave the county, and the Sheriff said Thursday he did not know where they were.

Letter Substantiates Theory.

Coroner Streeper received a letter several days ago, saying that the woman whose body was taken from the river was not murdered, as was supposed from the absence of water on her lungs, but was killed by a horse's kick. The body, the letter said, was thrown into the river by her traveling companions to save expense and trouble.

The finding of a crucifix and scapular, like those worn by the woman, in McGill's possession, and the fact that he and the women had been traveling about the country in such a manner as the letter described, caused the belief that the trio were the companions of the woman mysteriously killed. Her name was given in the letter as Mary Esmond.

FATHER KISSES CHILDREN, THEN KILLS HIMSELF

Carpenter Out of Work Weeps Before He Puts Bullet in Brain.

For six months John Hendrickson, a carpenter, had been out of work. Day after day and week after week he tramped the streets looking for a job and found none. Each night he returned to his home at 2623 South Broadway more and more discouraged.

When he returned home Wednesday evening only his two little daughters were there. The mother had gone out. The little girls say their father went into the back yard and sat down on a cot there and asked them to come to him.

He placed one of them on each side of him on the cot and put an arm around each of them and they saw the tears streaming down his cheeks.

"What are you crying about, papa?" asked little Sarah, who is only 11 years old.

"Never mind, child, you wouldn't understand it," he answered. Then he kissed each of them and gave them a hug and told them to run out in front and play.

A moment later the children heard a shot. They ran back through the house and out into the yard and saw their father lying on the cot. A revolver was on the ground beside him and there was a bullet hole in his right temple.

ST. LOUISANS BID IN BULK OF CITY'S BONDS

$5,500,000 Sold at Premium and Twice as Much in Demand.

$3,000,000 IS REFUSED

Abraham White, "Postage Stamp Bidder," Wanted to Get in Game.

St. Louis financiers and city officials are rejoicing over the remarkably successful sale of the $5,500,000 of municipal improvement bonds which were allotted by Comptroller Player Wednesday.

Although out-of-town investors bid for $11,000,000, St. Louis banking interests captured the entire issue, the average award being made on the basis of 101.6.

Abraham White, president of the American De Forest Wireless Telegraph Co., bid for $3,000,000 through J. E. Reid, a Boston broker. This bid was rejected on the ground that the bank on which the check was drawn is not under the supervision of the Banking Department of Massachusetts.

Also Bid on New York Bonds.

White, who formerly resided in St. Louis, recently made a similar unsuccessful attempt to obtain the greater part of an issue of $90,000,000 floated by the city of New York.

Some years ago White, without the expenditure or deposit of a dollar, obtained a large share of a New York bond issue, which he sold subsequently to Russell Sage at a profit of $250,000.

From that time he has been known in Wall street as the "postage stamp bidder."

Trust Company Highest Bidder.

The highest premium paid for the St. Louis bonds was by the St. Louis Union Trust Co., which gave $1028 for each $1000 bond, taking $200,000 worth at that price.

"St. Louis bonds are as good as money," said President Thomas H. West to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday. "They are gilt-edged in every way, and that's why we made our bid so attractive.

"In a way the price received by St. Louis for all the bonds is better than the showing of New York in the recent large city bond sale there.

Money Seeking Investment.

"The fact of such a great demand for our bonds is to bankers a most encouraging sign of the times. It indicates that money is seeking investment. It tells plainer than words that normal conditions are returning again."

Breckenridge Jones, vice-president of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., said:

"Every St. Louisan has a right to feel gratified over the successful culmination of the bond sale.

"The city did splendidly considering everything."

Other well-known financiers expressed themselves along similar lines.

The W. R. Compton Bond and Mortgage Co. got $1,000,000 of the new issue and will pay a premium of $10,300.

The Commonwealth Trust Co. took $406,000 of the issue and paid $6604 premium.

Wernse & Dieckman bought $250,000 worth, their bid ranging from $11.45 premium on a bond to $12.79. L. Fr. Lionberger took $200,000 worth and paid $12.70 premium on each bond, or a total of $2540.

D. Arthur Bowman bought $100,000 worth at $14.60 premium. The Noel Young Bond and Stock Co. bought $50,000 worth at $1,017.51 a bond.

The bonds are to be delivered July 1. They bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent a year. The average premium bid was $10.10 a bond and the total premium is $88,403.50. Total bids aggregated $33,153,100.

The entire proceeds from the bond sale will be devoted to public work, including $1,000,000 for the free bridge; $2,000,000 for the Municipal Courts Building and $800,000 for the Insane Asylum.

Rich Red Blood Produced by This Home Treatment. Nerve Force, Too.

It has long been known that certain vegetable extracts, oils, essences and vital mineral elements of nature properly blended, may not only add years to the average life, but add that which is even greater—the ability to succeed, the ability to do and to dare and the ability to enjoy the happiness thrust upon us by nature's lavish provision through the certain power of what is commonly termed physical-mental magnetism—which is simply the result of a strong circulation of rich, red blood through the arteries and veins, supplying all the functions with the power to act naturally.

A certain well-known medical expert asserts that thousands of men and many women are sufferers all because of dormant circulation of the blood and a consequential impairment of the nervous force, which begets the most dreadful symptoms and untold misery and physical and mental suffering beyond description. The restorative treatment is simple, and if followed will undoubtedly repay any one who tries it; and owing to the sensitiveness of nervous people, it is suggested that the ingredients be obtained separately and mixed at home. All well-stocked druggists have them, or can get them from wholesale firms who supply the profession and trade.

First get three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound and mix in a half-pint bottle with one ounce compound fluid balmwort, and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cademene. Mix all together, shake well, and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime. * * *

sort: Rudolph Spreckels, the sugar king, and George Knight. Minnesota has two in former Senator Washburn and Frank H. Kellogg, the Government "trust buster." Illinois has one in Lieutenant-Governor Sherman.

Taft Gets More Delegates.

The National Committee today seated the Taft delegates from the First and Fifth districts of South Carolina. Taft is also expected to capture the entire State delegations in Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, which will considerably increase his total. Following the disposition of the South Carolina contests, the National Committee took up the Tennessee cases. It was decided to allow each side two hours.

Several long talks between National Committeeman Akins and State Chairman Dickey of Missouri, one lasting until midnight, have given rise to the story that they were patching up a peace in Missouri Republican circles, and burying the rivalry between their opposing factions.

Mr. Dickey was asked about it today.

"We have had several talks," he replied. "We have been talking about carrying Missouri this fall, and the harmony in the party is of the thick kind, and there are no fights.

"Mr. Akins and I have always been friends even if we have differed about party methods. All men cannot look at things exactly alike.

"But we are going to carry Missouri this fall. We are all together."

No Candidate, Says Hitchcock.

Mr. Hitchcock, the Taft manager, insists that his organization has no vice-presidential candidate. It is interested solely in Taft and will leave the vice-presidency to the convention, he says, but inside reports from Washington say the White House and the Taft people are waiting for just two things—an acceptable vice-presidential candidate and the proper time to promulgate his name.

With the arrival today of Attorney-General Wade Ellis of Ohio, bearing a big load of planks for the platform, the platform talk came to the front. Mr. Ellis, who is a boyish-looking young man, had to spin like a top in the Annex lobby this morning. As soon as he grasped one man's hand, another hand seized his shoulder and whirled him around.

Everybody sought to arrange "for a word" with him and if his time holds out he ought to have a dictionary full of "words" by night.

Van Cleave Is Here.

Chief among those who sought him was James W. Van Cleave of St. Louis, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, who has some well-konwn ideas on planks. Mr. Van Cleave arrived on the spot this morning.

"We are interested in a broad, patriotic platform only," said Mr. Van Cleave. "I think I speak for the business men of the country when I say this. We do not want any class legislation or any planks looking toward class legislation."

Roosevelt Not For Cortelyou.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The following statement was issued from the White House today:

"The President is not advocating the nomination of Secretary Cortelyou for Vice-President. On the other hand, he is not angry with Mr. Cortelyou because his friends are booming his candidacy, and no reprimand of Mr. Cortelyou is contemplated. The President is keeping his hands off the vice-presidential situation."

Mr. Taft and the President still believe that Senator Dolliver is the most available man for the place, but if it becomes advisable to take a man from the East, they believe that Cortelyou, at this time, is the strongest man.

The President does not believe that the Secretary of the Treasury authorized the statement that the administration is backing him. Secretary Taft, who has maintained a similar "hands off" policy on the second place, asked the President if he had given any assurances to Cortelyou. He was told that Cortelyou had not asked for any.

Louis A. Coolidge, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who called on the President before leaving for Chicago, said:

"Mr. Cortelyou's name will not be presented to the convention unless we have good reason to believe he will be nominated. We are going out now to find out the feeling of the delegates."

ROOSEVELT INDORSEMENT OF HOPKINS IS DISREGARDED

Tariff Revisionists Determine to Keep Illinois "Standpatter" Out of Committee.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Opposition has developed to Senator Hopkins of Illinois as chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, and the curious thing about it is that though Hopkins was officially indorsed for the place by the President, the fight against him is being made by the President's friends. Prominent in the movement are Victor Rosewater of Nebraska, Frank B. Kellog of Minnesota, and Senator Charles W. Fulton of Oregon.

The opposition is based on the ground that Hopkins is a standpatter of the deepest dye and therefore not to be trusted with the chairmanship of a committee which is supposed to be preparing a tariff revision platform. There will be a tariff revision plank, but how strong a fight Hopkins would make for a plank that would be satisfactory to Secretary Taft is the question raised by those who are opposing him.

The rival candidate is Frank B. Kellogg, a Roosevelt man.

GUILD DECLINES TO ENTER COMBINATION WITH HAMMOND

BOSTON, June 11.—On his arrival from Washington, Guild made public his reply to a letter from John Hays Hammond relating to the Republican nomination for Vice-President. Gov. Guild informed Mr. Hammond that he could not make any agreement with him regarding the nomination.

Mr. Hammond wrote to Gov. Guild that if the Republican National Committee or the delegates to the Chicago Convention desired a New England man for Vice-President, he would withdraw and do everything in his power toward Gov. Guild's nomination.

On the other hand, Mr. Hammond asked the Governor if he would support him in the event that the party leaders decided that the vice-presidential candidate should be from some section of the country other than New England. Mr. Hammond holds that he represents the West as well as the East.

SEEKS WRIT FOR HIS CHILD; ACCUSES MOTHER-IN-LAW

Father Asks Court's Aid to Enable Him to See Eighteen-Months-Old Boy.

Alleging that his wife, Mrs. Margaret Noonan, 3638 Finney avenue, will not permit him to see his child, John Noonan Thursday applied in the Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus to enable him to obtain possession of his 18-months-old son, Thomas.

In his petition he says his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Finnegan, is aiding her daughter.

They were married in February, 1905, and went to live with Mrs. Finnegan. Noonan alleges that things were made so unpleasant for him at the Finnegan home that he left there last September.

WETS CLAIM VICTORY IN SEDALIA ELECTION

Women Take Active Part at the Polls and Follow Saloon Leaders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 11.—Excitement prevails here today over the local option election. The heaviest vote ever polled is being cast, and the "wets" claim they will achieve victory by a small majority.

Prominnt church workers and hundreds of women are thronging the streets in behalf of local option, and free lunches are being served in the vicinity of voting places.

For the first two hours of voting today the leaders of the "wet" element were followed closely by women, who anticipated the buying of negro votes, and, at threats of being dealt with roughly, the women finally desisted the "dogging."

AGED WOMAN, WALKING ON TRACK, KILLED BY TRAIN

East St. Louis Woman, to Avoid Freight, Steps in Front of Passenger.

Mrs. Mary Hinderberger, 70 years old, of Fifteenth street and Gross avenue, East St. Louis, was walking on the Terminal Railroad track, a half mile north of East St. Louis Thursday morning, when she was run down and killed by a Cotton Belt passenger train entering the city.

She stepped from one track to another to avoid a freight train and did not see the passenger train until it was too late to escape.

Maternity Hospital to Move.

The Charity Maternity Hospital will move on June 15 from 3416 Lucas avenue to 2621 Locust street. The hospital, which was organized a month ago, has been protested against by property owners in its vicinity. Drs. John C. Morfit, John Young Brown and Davis Forster have been chosen as the medical staff of the hospital.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

Experience of a Southern Man.

"Please allow me to thank the originator of Postum, which in my case, speaks for itself," writes a Fla. man.

"I formerly drank so much coffee during the day that my nervous system was almost a wreck. My physician told me to quit drinking it but I had to have something to drink, so I tried Postum.

"To my great surprise I saw quite a change in my nerves in about 10 days. That was a year ago and now my nerves are steady and I don't have those bilious sick headaches which I regularly had while drinking coffee.

"Postum seems to have body-building properties and leaves the head clear. And I do not have the bad taste in my mouth when I get up mornings. When Postum is boiled good and strong, it is far better in taste than coffee. My advice to coffee drinkers is to try Postum and be convinced." "There's a Reason."

CONSUMER SEES ELECTRIC METER WORK OVERTIME

Lights All Out, but the Kilowatt Register Stayed on Job.

GASOLINE TO BE TRIED

Pool Room Proprietor Declares Bills Jumped From $33 to $60.

W. S. Harbur and James J. Anagnestaras, proprietors of a poolroom at 921 Pine street, would appreciate having the company of a public service commission at some of their nightly seances to witness the running materializations of their electric meter.

When the poolroom men found that their electric light bills had increased from $33 a month under a flat rate to $60 a month under the November rate schedule of Union Electric, they sat up from midnight to daylight with the meter.

When they learned that in five hours the meter, with all lights turned out, had registered two kilowatt hours, they decided to discontinue the Union Electric service and illuminate their place with gasoline lamps.

They have also refused to pay the bill for $60. W. S. Harbur, one of the proprietors, signed a new contract with Union Electric April 24. In this contract he guaranteed 65 cents a month for each 16-candle power lamp installed. The contract was made on a basis of 36 lamps, with a minimum guarantee of $23.40.

Reduces His Guarantee.

A few weeks later he got notice from Union Electric that an inspector had found that he had an installation of 48 lamps and that his minimum would be increased to $31.20 a month. On the high guarantee the poolroom people had been given a base rate of 8 cents a kilowatt hour, but their bill for May was nearly twice as much as it had been under the flat rate.

In order to get away from the maximum guarantee Mr. Harbur exercised his option of guaranteeing only 10 cents a lamp. By that means he cut down his guarantee from $31.20 to $4.80 a month, but his rate was increased from 8 to 12 cents.

As he has decided to discontinue Union Electric service, the rate is not material and all the company can possibly get under the contract—one-half of its minimum guarantee—will be $2.40 a month for the unexpired period.

After the April contract was signed Union Electric demanded an increase in the deposit from $28 to $50. Mr. Harbur refused to pay. With its usual promptness in such matters Union Electric disconnected the poolroom and left it in darkness.

With this club over his head, Mr. Harbur had to pay the $22 in order to get any light, although Union Electric had contracted to give him the service.

Keep Watch on Meter.

"When the $60 bill came in I decided that something must be wrong," said Mr. Harbur to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "With a witness I sat up from midnight to daylight to find out what the meter was doing. Every electric light in the house was turned off. The meter registered two kilowatt hours in the five hours between readings.

"When I caught the mister creeping on me I concluded it was time to do something. I have arranged to have, at a cost of $150, gasoline lamps put in the poolroom. I also changed my contract to reduce my minimum, so that in the event I am forced to pay it I will not be out much.

"My fan service was increased from $12 to $15 a fan. I find that I can illuminate my place with the gasoline lights at $6 or $7 a month, and that I can save enough in three months to pay for the outfit."

The electric light bills of the Typewriter Exchange, 208 North Ninth street, show a remarkable variation. Beginning with January, 1906, the company's bill was $26.08. It continued to drop rapidly until April, when it was $8.40, and it reached the lowest mark of the year in August, at $6.08.

Increase in Bill 325 Per Cent.

The average bill for the entire year was $9.95 a month, or $119.30 in all.

The highest bill for the year 1907 was $16.24, in January. The bills continued to decrease until September, when they dropped to the minimum of $5 a month, and continued to stand at that figure during October, November and December. The total bill for the year was $83.68, an average of $6.97.

In January, 1908, the bills began to rise again. The bill for that month was $13.92, for February $21.76, for March $19.68, for April $24.80 and for May $22.88.

The bills for the first five months of this year average $20.61, as against $6.97 last year, an increase of 325 per cent. They were all rendered under the same contract and the same rate. O. L. Thompson, the manager of the exchange, says that in the latter part of 1906 one arc lamp and about nine incandescents were discontinued. He thinks the company is not using as much light as it was when the bills were one-third what they are now.

The bills for five months of 1908 aggregate $103.04, as against $83.68 for the entire year of 1907.

ALUMNI WILL HAVE FARCE

The Shields-Patrick Henry Alumni Association will hold its regular semi-annual reunion Friday evening in the auditorium of the Patrick Henry School.

The first part of the evening will be devoted to the presentation of a farce entitled "Who Is Who," by the following members: Oscar Block, Henry Rubin, Ben Glassman, Miss Josephine Steinberg and Miss Yetta Schwalb.

After the play refreshments will be served and the remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing.

SLAYER CHASED BY MOB KILLS 2, SHOOTS WOMAN

Oklahoma Town Picketed by Crowd Bent on Lynching a Negro Fugitive.

FISHERMEN SHOT DOWN

Pleasure Party Is Mistaken for Foes by Man Who Wears Dress as Disguise.

WILBURTON, Ok., June 11.—After having mysteriously disappeared from this city last September, when he shot and killed Deputy City Marshal Oliver H. Swan, R. H. Johnson reappeared here last night in woman's attire. In a running fight that followed efforts to capture him he shot and killed two prominent citizens and wounded a woman.

The dead:

WALTER ROBERTS, shot and killed instantly.

ROBERT MOUNDS, shot and mortally wounded; died in a short time.

The wounded:

MRS. R. BLAKELY, shot while hiding behind a tree.

The entire country is roused and lookouts are posted about the town every 50 yards in a circle six miles wide, but the man has so far eluded capture.

The murder of the men and the wounding of the woman occurred under melodramatic circumstances. Johnson, who is a negro, was being pursued in the environs of Wilburton, having escaped in the public square by tearing off the skirt he wore as a disguise and taking to his heels.

Armed Crowds Pursue Him.

From every store and street poured crowds of people, all heavily armed, as the alarm had spread that "Johnson is back," and he was sought, dead or alive.

As Johnson ran he fired back at his pursuers over his shoulder, but the bullets went wild. He maintained a good lead, but a shower of shots constantly whizzed past him.

As he made his way across the broken country he gained more and more on the crowd, until their shots sounded half a mile distant. By this time some of the cooler of the citizens had mounted horses and were galloping at top speed in the direction Johnson had been seen going last.

As the panting negro, nearly spent by the chase, clambered down the banks of a stream in the hope of hiding in the underbrush, he came face to face with Mound, Mrs. Mounds, Roberts and his wife, Mrs. Blakely and several others who composed a fishing party.

Mistaking them for pursuers, he opened fire on them all without warning. With a scream Mrs. Blakely ran to a place of shelter behind a tree. A bullet from the negro's revolver grazed her body, inflicting a serious wound.

Shot Down in Cold Blood.

Mounds and Roberts were unarmed and were shot down by Johnson in cold blood.

Their bodies were found three minutes later by the mounted men, who were able to attend the injuries of Mrs. Blakely in time to save her life.

The negro, under cover of thick underbrush in the vicinity, escaped while the horsemen attended the wounded woman.

There is no doubt that Johnson will be lynched when he is caught.

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did.

Mrs. A. Gregory of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Colo., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, headache and kindred ailments should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with fibroid tumors, backache, headache, hot flashes, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

LENT $5 AND IT NETTED HIM SMALL FORTUNE

Staked Buffalo Bill When He Was "Broke," Then Lost Own Money.

A man shook hands with Buffalo Bill in his tent Tuesday afternoon and said:

"Colonel, you remember Jim Brown of Leavenworth, Kan.?"

"Who? Old Jim Brown? Well, I guess I do. The first $5 I ever had in my life I borrowed from old Jim Brown."

"Well, I married his sister."

"You did? Then you've got to eat supper with me and stay as long as you can. Anybody that's kin to old Jim Brown of Leavenworth can have anything I've got."

And then Col. Cody told the story of how, when he was a boy out in Kansas, he had to have $5 for his mother and he borrowed it from Jim Brown.

The Dividend on $5.

And after he was done telling that story the other man told the sequel to it—how, in later years, when Jim Brown had lost his livery stable and was "broke" and discouraged, Buffalo Bill came to Leavenworth with his Wild West show, and wearing diamonds given him by the kings and potentates of the earth, he hunted up old Jim Brown and bought him another livery stable and stocked it with horses and carriages and gave it all to him.

And that mention of diamonds led the old scout to show them to the man who had married the sister of old Jim Brown.

"Here, Oliver," he shouted to his body servant. "Bring me my vest."

It was lying on a trunk. Oliver brought it and Buffalo Bill took out the gold watch, studded with 130 diamonds, that was given him by King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. It was made to the order of the King especially for Buffalo Bill and had upon it his initials and those of the King entwined. The man from Kansas marveled so much at it that Buffalo Bill shouted again.

"Here, Oliver, bring me my biled shirt."

Cuff Buttons, Buffalo Heads.

It had for cuff buttons two golden buffalo heads an inch across and set all over with glittering diamonds.

"They were given me in 1872 by Duke Alexis," he said. "And he gave me a scarfpin to match, but I haven't worn that since last year, when King Edward of England gave me another one. Here, Oliver, bring me my scarf."

The pin was a golden filagree monogram of a crown with the letters E. VII beneath it and covered with pure white diamonds.

"By golly, I never had so many diamonds in my hand before," said the man from Kansas.

"Shucks, that's not half. Let me show you the rest," and he brought out a diamond studded Knights of Pythias charm and a thirty-second degree Masonic emblem, and some more watch charms and stickpins and cuff buttons and the Medal of Honor awarded him by a special act of Congress.

"I value that more than all the rest," he said. "There ain't many fellows traveling around with them on."

Likes This Ring Pretty Well.

"I like this ring pretty well, too," he said. It was a ring of gold, blue enamel and diamonds, given him 18 years ago by the Prince Regent of Bavaria.

The most interesting features of the Buffalo Bill show, which the public never see, are the receptions which he holds in his private tent behind the canvas curtains painted with the green and yellow mountain scene.

Every town in the country has one or more old fellows who were frontiersmen when the West was "wild and wooly." These all claim to have known Buffalo Bill in those days, and each one of them has to make a personal call on him when he comes to town.

"I like to have 'em come," says Col. Cody. "But the fun of it is I never saw one out of a hundred of 'em before. Especially the forty-niners. They come and say: 'Colonel, you remember me. I crossed the plains and mountains in '49 and I met you when you was scoutin' out there.' I was born, you know, in '46. They must think I'm as old as Methusaleh. Down in Akron, Ohio, I marched with the war veterans Decoration Day, and one old comrade said to me as he climbed out of his carriage:

"'Well, Col. Cody, if you're going to walk I will, too. If one old man can walk, another can!'

"'Why, how old are you?' I asked him.

"'I'm 84,' he said.

"I'm only 63, you know."

CHIEF CREECY DECLARES HE WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH THE DIRECTOIRE GOWN

Anthony Comstock Issues Ukase Against Garment in New York, but Police Hold Back.

Anthony Comstock, president of the Society for the Suppression of Vice in New York, has issued a dictum that the sheath skirt must not be worn in that city. If it is he will cause the arrest of the daring person who appears in it.

Police Commissioner Bingham of New Lork, whose duty it would be to order the police to arrest women wearing directoire gowns, said he would not attempt to have women arrested for that cause.

When Chief of Police Creecy was asked if he would have women arrested in St. Louis for wearing directoire gowns, said:

"I will not order the police to arrest women for wearing directoire gowns on the streets. From the pictures I have seen of them I do not consider them immoral, nor even immodest. They do not expose to the public gaze as much of the stocking as one sees at every corner on a rainy day when the women lift their gowns to avoid the mud.

"As I understand it, silk trousers are worn with the sheath dress and entirely conceals the stocking. It is not part of my duty to interfere with women's apparel if they do not break the law.

"I am not so foolish as to try to be the censor of women's garments."

CLOTHING FOUND; POLICE THINK TRAIN KILLED MAN

Hat, Coat and Grip in Willows Beside Track Near Alton.

A canvas telescope valise containing a man's shirts and underclothing and a soft black hat, were found in the willows near the Bluff Line tracks, a mile and a half north o- Alton, Thursday. A man's gray serge coat and vest were found in the shallow and greasy water which now covers a switch track. The initials "J. B." were on a white handkerchief and a shirt in the valise.

Alton policemen, after examining the scene and the articles, believe the owner of the valise, hat and clothing was struck by a train while carrying the coat and vest on his arm, and was hurled into the river, which, at its present stage, is almost up to the main line track. A search will be made for a body.

In the coatpocket were a pass-out check of a St. Louis burlesque theater, undated, a business card of a Walnut street saloonkeeper and a card bearing the name "Miss Mamie Long, 624 North Third street."

There is no such number on North Third street, although a house formerly stood adjoining the present number 620. The clothes are those of a small man. The hat bears the name of the selling place, some town in Texas, the name of the town not being legible.

CALIFORNIA HEIRESS, WITH MILLIONS, WEDS RANCHER

They Elope and Her Furious Family Do Not Yet Know Their Whereabouts.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Jennie Stanford Lathrop, who, besides her own large fortune, received a million dollars by the will of her aunt, Mrs. Leland Stanford, has eloped with and married Walter Watson, a poor ranch manager of Napa Valley.

Watson is very little known, while his runaway bride has moved in the best society of California.

Her father, Charles G. Lathrop, and many of her aristocratic connections in San Francisco are furious.

Where the runaway couple are spending their honeymoon has not yet become known.

TAFT WALKS UNDER LADDER

Presidential Aspirant Shows Associates He Is Not Superstitious.

By Wire from the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Workmen were repairing a chandelier in the War Department hall, near Secretary Taft's door, yesterday afternoon, using a ladder. The Secretary stopped short when he reached the ladder and looked up.

Persons passing through the hall stopped and watched the Secretary. There was room, scant, but enough to pass around the ladder. Was the Secretary superstitious? Would he jeopardize his presidential chances?

Mr. Taft hesitated a moment, glanced around at the waiting group, then laughed—and walked under the ladder.

GET BUSY! CITY TO BE CLEANED JUNE 22-23-24

Children of Public and Parochial Schools Will Do the Work.

WOMEN WILL DIRECT IT

City Will Furnish Wagons to Haul Away Rubbish Pupils Find.

The City Street Department will furnish 300 teams and 1000 men to remove and haul away the rubbish to be gathered by the public and parochial school children June 22 and 23. The men and teams will be set to work June 24, after the rubbish has been gathered by the children and deposited in the gutters of the streets or in the alleys.

Street Commissioner Travilla has promised the Federation of Women's Clubs his hearty co-operation in the movement.

Women "White Wings."

Thirty women, attired in "white wing" costumes, will traverse the city in automobiles, directing the work of cleaning up all manner of rubbish, such as tin cans, bottles, sticks, paper, boxes, etc. Rubbish will be gathered from vacant lots as well as the streets and alleys, and all weeds that are cut and piled, will be hauled away by the city's teams.

Superintendent of Schools Blewett has notified the principals of the different schools to instruct the children as to what is expected of them on cleaning day.

To Instruct Children.

The parochial school children will be given similar instruction.

The Neighborhood House, the Kingdom House, the Jewish Educational Alliance and the Self-Culture Club will have charge of the work in the congested districts east of Jefferson avenue.

Mrs. Henrietta Parsons Gill, chairman of the Art Committee of the Women's Clubs, has arranged with Capt. McCulloch of the United Railways Co. to place signs on all the street cars. The sign will read:

"For a clean city, June 24. Get busy."

THE HISTORY OF A MONTH!

The month of May just closed was a record breaker for that month for the entire thirty years of the existence of the Post-Dispatch, in circulation, in circulation revenue and in volume of advertising. The figures:

Average circulation of the Post-Dispatch every day during the—
Month of May, 1907, 164,930.
Month of May, 1908, 176,054.
Total columns of advertising:
Month of May, 1907, 3156.
Month of May, 1908, 3237.
Why?

Because the Post-Dispatch has more actual bona fide paid circulation in the City of St. Louis and its suburbs than all the other English dailies in the same field combined!

It is the Home paper of St. Louis. The only paper in many homes. The one paper in every home. Circulation books open to all.

DAVIS WOULD HAVE VOTERS NOMINATE A COMMITTEEMAN

Meeting in Cabanne Will Be Asked to Indicate Choice of Twenty-Eighth Warder.

Central committeemen will be selected by the voters of the Democratic and Republican parties in each ward at the primaries Aug. 4. Heretofore, these men have been selected by a handful of delegates. As a result, there will be more competition for the places in every ward. Each voter may write the name of any person on his ballot.

Delegate Dwight Davis has evolved a plan for the participation of the Regular Republican Precinct Organization Club of the Twenty-eighth Ward, of which he is president, in the selection of the Republican committeeman from that ward.

Peter M. Hanson is now committeeman. He is a Niedringhaus lieutenant, and, therefore, an anti-Howe man. Hanson would like to be re-elected while Howe would like to put some politician he favors in the place. Mr. Davis, however, has planned to have the 600 voters of the R. R. P. O. Club select their choice for committeeman at a meeting at Arcade Hall, in Cabanne, Saturday night, and support the man so selected at the polls.

SUGGEST DIRECTOIRE FOR BRIDE—$10 AND COSTS EACH

South Broadway Wedding Results in Fight and Leads to Court.

Because John Woolf insisted that the bride, at a wedding which he attended, would look better in a directoire gown, he and his friend, Jacob Cooper got into a fistic debate with Joseph Bluth and Joseph Sloger, particular friends of Frank Tetrin, the bridegroom.

Cooper and Woolf were fined $10 each by Judge Kleiber Thursday and paid the fines.

That the bride, who was Johanna Kogrousek, must have looked charming in any kind of a bridal gown, was evident when she appeared in court. The trouble occurred at 3128 South Broadway, the scene of the wedding. Cooper lives at 1130 Pestalozzi street, and Woolf at Broadway and Dorcas street.

OLD WOMAN SEWS $1140 IN $5 BILLS IN HEM OF SKIRT

Money Saved From Wages Found by Nurses When She Is Taken to Hospital for Observation.

Sewed in the hem of her old black skirt, Miss Bridget Hessian had $1140 in $5 bills when the nurses at the City Hospital undressed her Wednesday night.

She is 65 years old, unmarried, and lived in the rear of 733 South Second street. She worked in a factory and saved the money from her wages. Her neighbors notified the police Wednesday night that she was acting strangely. A policeman took her to the hospital for medical investigation.

Physicians at the hospital said she was demented, and that she must be undressed, bathed and put to bed and watched. She fought against the nurses when they began to take off her clothing, and she clung to her old, faded black skirt. The nurses felt a lump in it and ripped it open and found the money.

SAGER TO PUSH POLAR WAVE CASE TO LIMIT IN COURT

Court Would Have Set Aside Merchants' Company Verdict, Circuit Attorney Says.

Circuit Attorney Sager said Thursday, in explaining the dismissal of the suit against the Merchants' Ice and Coal Co., which he had accused of violation of the anti-trust laws:

"The suit had been once heard and resulted in a mistrial. During the progress of the trial the Court said that if we got a verdict against the company he would set it aside.

"The Polar Wave case, which is pending in the Circuit Court, will be fought out to the end."

Mr. Sager returned Thursday from Chicago, where he spent several days in the interest of Hughes for President.

Sprinkles Acid on Horse.

F. O. Murray of St. Charles is looking for the man who invaded his stable and sprinkled "high life," or carbolic acid, on his favorite buggy horse. The horse's nose was seared, but his eyes were not injured. His coat is badly marred by the acid.

FELIX ROZIER IS DEAD AT 84

Ste. Genevieve Millionaire Once Owned St. Louis Hotel.

Felix Rozier, former owner of a St. Louis Hotel which still bears his name, is dead at Ste. Genevieve, where he was the wealthiest resident. His property is estimated at a total value of nearly $1,000,000. He died of old age, being 84.

Mrs. E. F. Shaw of St. Louis is a daughter. There are three other daughters and two sons. The funeral will be held Friday at the Catholic Church in Ste. Genevieve.

We Announce for Friday an Extraordinary Sale of Cloth Suits and Silk Princess Dresses

$25.00, $30.00 and $35.00 Values at $9.75

You remember that remarkable Sale of Suits that we held just about a week ago—well, this is another opportunity of securing even greater values—the suits are just in by express from New York and were bought at less than half of their original cost. We have marked them on the same basis. There are just 320 Cloth Suits and 250 Silk Dresses. All go on sale tomorrow at 8 o'clock.

The mere statement that we are going to place on sale tomorrow Cloth Suits and Silk Dresses that are actually worth $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00, at $9.75, may not appear startling or extraordinary to you, but if you examine these Suits and note the beauty of the styles, the range and quality of the fabrics, and the perfection of tailoring, then you will begin to appreciate what this announcement means.

You will find in the assortment numerous styles that will please you. The Cloth Suits come in all the newest models—short, tight or semi-fitting, Prince Chap, Butterfly, etc., in plain, fancy, wide, narrow and hairline stripe materials; the Silk Suits are made of heavy taffetas and novelty silks, in all shades and stripe combinations, in one-piece Princess effects; some in jumper styles and others with elaborate lace guimpes; Friday they all go at $9.75

$5 and $6 Trimmed Hats, $1.95

To clean up about 150 Trimmed Hats we place them on sale tomorrow at $1.95. The values are anywhere from $4.00 to $6.00—yes, and some that were marked as high as $7.00 and $8.00. The women that will take advantage of this sale will certainly get millinery values that will surprise them. There is only one reason for this sale, and that is to clean them out. The work alone, not figuring the cost of material on many of these Hats, amounts to more than the price asked for the entire Hat.

You will find a splendid choice of shapes and colors. If you need a Hat for street wear, better come here tomorrow. You never bought such Hats at the ridiculously low price of $1.95

Kahn Fireless Cooker

Two Demonstrations Daily: 11:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M.

BEFORE an interested but skeptical crowd of two hundred people, the wonderful Kahn Fireless Cooker was opened Tuesday, and there, steaming hot and perfectly cooked, was a delicious dinner.

The roast was done to a turn, thoroughly cooked, but not overdone; the potatoes dry and mealy; the onions tender and sweet, and everything retaining every particle of its original flavor and nutriment. Though cooked in the same water with the onions, no suggestion of their odor could be detected in the potatoes.

It was a perfect, practical test of this wonderful invention, bearing out to the letter every claim made for it. (Fifth Floor.)

LANGDON SMITH'S WIDOW SAID TO HAVE ENDED LIFE

Crazed by Journalist's Death, She Is Found in Home Unconscious From Poison.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Believed to have committed suicide by poison, the widow of Langdon (Denver) Smith, a brilliant journalist, who died April 8, is dead in her home in Flatbush. Mrs. Smith, crazed by her husband's sudden death, was taken to King's County Hospital April 25, suffering from poison. She was later discharged. Yesterday a maid found her unconscious, and, despite every effort of physicians, she soon succumbed.

She was 32 years old, and, before marriage, was Miss Marie Antoinette Wright of Louisville, Ky.

WIDOW TO ERECT HOTEL AS MONUMENT TO DEAD HUSBAND

Hostelry Will Be Named for Him and Will Be Gift to Church, Library and Y. M. C. A.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASSUMPTION, Ill., June 11.—The contract for a new hotel in this city was let yesterday to J. N. Fairchild of Danville, Ill., for $26,175, work to commence at once and be completed in five months.

Sarah A. Kammerer, widow of the late Phillip B. Kammerer, is erecting the hotel as a gift to the Presbyterian Church, Library and Y. M. C. A., in memory of the late Phillip B. Kammerer. The hotel is to be known as "Hotel Phillip."

M'KENDREE HAS NAMED NEW MAN FOR PRESIDENT

Dr. Chamberlin Is Made Emeritus and Dr. Harmon Succeeds Him.

Two years after President McKendress Hypes Chamberlin of McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., had succeeded in having intercollegiate athletics abolished at the institution he was elected president emeritus Wednesday afternoon by the Executive Board and the Rev. John F. Harmon elected to succeed him as president.

The Executive Board at its meeting Wednesday also granted the petition of the students that intercollegiate basket ball at the college be reinstated.

The Executive Board did not criticise Dr. Chamberlin for the stand he had taken against intercollegiate athletics, but the fact that the attendance at the school has fallen from 135 to 90 students in the last two years is known to have worried them considerably.

Dr. Chamberlin held the executive chair in the college for 12 years.

His successor is pastor of a Methodist Episcopal Church of East St. Louis.

Chicago Claims 2,140,000.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Unofficial estimates made by those in charge of the school census indicate that Chicago now has a population of about 2,140,000. The total population reported in the census of 1904 when the last general school census was taken was 1,714,144.

BUTCHERS SELLING VEGETABLES

NEW YORK, June 11.—With the high price of meats, vegetables have increased steadily in demand. It is said at the large markets that New Yorkers are eating more vegetables than ever before. During the last seven days a high record for the sale of potatoes, green peas and asparagus has been set.

For the first time in 25 years it is cheaper to eat Oyster Bay asparagus and hot-house tomatoes than dressed meat. Porterhouse steaks sold yesterday for 30 cents a pound, while the best asparagus was 25 cents a bunch.

As a result retail butchers have suffered and are putting in vegetable stands.

"Fay for Mayor" Club Will Meet.

A mass meeting of the Fay for Mayor Club will be held Saturday night in Faherty's Hall, 6786 Manchester avenue. Herman W. Fay, George H. Stein and W. A. Wheeling will make addresses.

Druggists to Meet in Mexico.

The Mexico Business Men's Association has issued invitations for the third annual meeting of the Missouri Druggists' Association, to be held there June 18, 19 and 20.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

COMING THICK AND FAST!

Belated shipments of purchases, made by our special-car excursion of buyers last week, are now being received and immediately added to the sensational buying inducements already here!

The Sale We've Promised Is Without Precedent in Volume and Value!

The instantaneous success of this undertaking has proven that conditions were ripe for just such a great merchandising event as has been arranged. The event is the outgrowth of circumstances. It is not an artificially concocted plan for hastening the sale of merchandise, but a natural result of impediments placed in the course of commerce during the past few months.

HEIRESS GETS $1,500,000, WEDS $60 CLERK SAME DAY; TO CROSS CONTINENT IN AUTO Youngest Largey Minor Comes Into Possession of Fortune and Will Go to Europe.

BUTTE, Mont., June 11.—Mary Montana Largey, 18 years old, youngest of the Largey minors, came into her fortune of a million and a half dollars Tuesday, and at midnight she was married to Raymond J. McDonald, a young clerk in a Broadway cab office, who had been working for $60 a month.

Some friends asked the girl why she wanted to marry the poor cab clerk.

"Because I love him and have enough money for both," she replied.

The couple left for San Francisco and there will start on an automobile wedding trip to New York. Miss Largey's big touring car and driver were shipped ahead several weeks ago. From New York they will go to Europe.

BOAT CAPTAIN DENIED DIVORCE

Mrs. Michael and Boy Deny She Sat on His Lap.

Mrs. Bertha Michael of 1306 Chouteau avenue, who, according to testimony, sat on the lap of a 16-year-old boy, defeated the suit of her husband, Peter Michael, for divorce. Both she and the boy denied the charge.

Judge Withrow dismissed the petition after hearing 20 witnesses. Michael is a steamboat captain. He lives at 2415 Kosciusko street. His suit was filed last March, and when Mrs. Michael learned of it she shot herself.

RAILROAD HELPS MAKE DEEP WATER TO GET MATERIAL FOR A GOOD ROADBED

Illinois Central Finds Mississippi Has Best Ingredient for Track Ballast.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Illinois Central Railroad is dredging the bed of the Mississippi, not with the view to improving it for navigation, but to get the finest kind of ballast for its own roadbed at a minimum of cost. The very idea of railroads working in their interests is making steamboat men chuckle.

By means of dredges especially constructed for the purpose, the Illinois Central is taking from the bed of the river at Memphis between 1200 and 1500 cubic yards of gravel ballast every 24 hours. Thus far over 200,000 cubic yards of pebbles have been sucked from the depths of the river and transferred to approximately 60 miles of Illinois Central track between Memphis and Vicksburg. With the river pebbles is mixed about 35 per cent of ordinary sand, the mixture producing the finest ballast yet discovered, a ballast which is also practically dustless.

The discovery by the Illinois Central management that Mississippi River pebbles would make a durable and satisfactory ballast means a great deal to Southern railroads. Hitherto railroads in the South have been unable to obtain a good ballast. It has cost the Illinois Central large sums to maintain its tracks through the delta.

TRAIN CREWS JOIN IN CHASE OF SUSPECTS

Two Are Caught and Escape, but Are Run Down Again.

HAVE SACKS WITH THEM

Are Held in Alton for Stealing Brass From Burlington Railroad.

The crews of three railroad trains joined in the capture, Wednesday night, of two men near Alton who were suspected of stealing brass journals from freight cars. The two men gave their names as Dock Bennington and Charles Chamberlain.

For two months, thieves have been stealing brass journals from freight cars on sidings of the Bluff Line at Lock Haven, 10 miles north of Alton.

Carry Sacks on Backs.

Wednesday night H. L. Hildreth, engineer, and F. A. Jones, conductor, of the push train, saw two men with sacks on their backs sneaking away from a string of cars on a siding. They stopped the train, chased them into a thicket, caught them and turned them and their sacks of brass over to Conductor John Slavin, of a freight train bound north, who locked them in the caboose of his train intending to put them in Jail in Jerseyville.

Leaps From Moving Train

After the train started the men broke the lock of the caboose, leaped from the moving train and escaped. The crew stopped the train and, joined by Conductor Corey of another train that came along at that time, chased and caught the men again.

This time Corey took charge of the two men and carried them to Alton and placed them in Jail.

INDIANS NEED NOT PAY ANY DEBTS ON ALLOWANCE DAY

Judge Upholds Eviction of Collector From Nebraska Reservation on Payday.

Chief Merry Sunshine, Chief Raney Daze and all the other chiefs, braves and squaws who live on Indian reservations throughout the United States may borrow all the money they can, and they will not have to pay it the day Uncle Sam passes around the Indian allowance.

All this comes about through a decision of Judge Willis Van Devanter in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Judge Van Devanter holds that the Indian police have authority to exclude collectors from the reservations on the Indians' pay day.

Charles Green Rainbow and several more members of the Indian police on the reservation in Thurston County, Neb., forcibly ejected Thomas L. Sloan, a collector, who was standing around, trying to collect a few debts from the Indians. Sloan caused the arrest of Green Rainbow and some of his fellow "cops." Judge Van Devanter sustains the action of the police, and holds that the Commissioner of Indian Affairs has the right to eject collectors on pay day on the ground that their presence among the Indians may be prejudicial to the "peace of the reservation."

WOMAN SCREAMS AND THIEF FLEES FROM HOUSE WITH $33

Mrs. Snyder Is Told to Be Silent, but She Arouses Household With Her Cry.

Mrs. David O. Snyder of 4051 Shenandoah avenue would not allow herself to be "bluffed" by such a trivial matter as a masked burglar, carrying a dark lantern, so when she was ordered, on pain of death, to keep silent at 4 a. m. Thursday, she sat up in bed and screamed with all her might.

A noise awakened Mrs. Snyder and she discovered the form of a man bending over a dresser drawer.

"What are you doing there?" asked Mrs. Snyder.

The form straightened up and a shaft of light flashed across the room and landed on Mrs. Snyder's face, almost blinding her.

"Keep still, or I'll knock your head off," commanded the intruder.

The bluff failed to work. Mrs. Snyder sat up and let out a yell that aroused the household. The burglar fled, taking with him $33 and a few small articles.

Connors, B. Maguire, F. Workman, T. Clancy, G. Gearin, J. Lyons, V. Spehr, M. O'Conner and J. Flynn.

COURT BARS HOPE OF LIFE TO SEER SENTENCED TO HANG

Meetings in Chicago Are Held in Behalf of Herman Billik, Convicted Slayer.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The most remarkable demonstration in behalf of a man condemned to die on the gallows began today when a series of meetings throughout the city was held to arouse public sentiment in favor of Herman Billik, necromancer and fortune teller, sentenced to be hanged tomorrow.

Their work was in vain, as the Supreme Court refused today to stop the execution.

Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan of the Paulist Fathers, who has fought for Billik's life for months, was the principal speaker at all these meetings, which constitute what he termed "the whirlwind finish of his campaign for justice for an innocent man."

Iowa Editor and Politician Dead.

BURLINGTON, Io., June 11.—William A. Morgan, once editor of the Burlington Gazette, Democrat, member of the Iowa Legislature, Speaker of the House and prominent Mason, died last evening at his home in Lake Forest, Ill. His remains will be buried in Burlington.

DRUGGIST'S NIGHT BELL "OUT OF ORDER" WHEN HE WEDS

Friends Put Comic Signs on Front of Eugene F. Kaiser's Store.

In celebration of Eugene F. Kaiser's marriage to Miss Tillie Kuchenbuch, his friends decorated his drug store, at Compton and Lawton avenues, early Thursday.

They covered the windows with signs, so that all who saw might know that the proprietor was a benedict.

Across the front door they placed a streamer: "Newlyweds, but no Napoleon."

"Joy, O joy." "Please don't disturb us." "Yes, we are married," were some of the other signs.

Over the night bell they tacked a card, which read: "Out of order."

Lamp Explodes; Man Injured.

Joseph Juhasz of 1849 Menard street seized a smouldering lamp from the table in his sitting room early Thursday, seeing the tablecloth near the lamp ablaze, and started for the back porch. The lamp exploded, and Juhasz's hands and face were burned. He was sent to the City Hospital, and will recover.

WOMAN DRESSING FOR WAKE BURNED WHEN LAMP EXPLODES

Mrs. Seib Injured About Arms and Neck, but She Will Recover.

Mrs. Irene Seib, the wife of Henry Seib and married only six months, was sitting before a mirror in her home, 918 South Ninth street, combing her hair by the light of a coaloil lamp that stood on the dresser beside her. She was getting ready to go to the wake of a friend who died Wednesday. The lamp exploded and she was badly burned on the arms and neck, but will recover.

Get All the Milk.

All of the butter fat, all of the solids. Make milk dishes as good as they can be.

You will be rather astounded when you first use Van Camp's Milk in cooking.

Such richness, such flavor—you will wonder where we obtain it.

It comes solely from milk.

Van Camp's is simply rich Holstein milk, with two-thirds the water evaporated.

Nothing is altered, nothing added. No sugar, no starch, no preservative.

The delicious flavor surprises you simply because you are not used to whole milk.

Your milkman's milk—if from the top of the can—lacks many of the solids.

If from the middle or bottom of the can, it lacks much of the butter fat.

In Van Camp's alone do you get all of the milk elements, just as they come from the cow.

You don't know what you miss—you who still cling to the milkman.

Make just one milk dish with Van Camp's and you'll be converted forever.

You'll know, for the first time, maybe, the exquisite flavor that comes from whole, rich milk.

That flavor is enhanced when you know that the milk is pure.

Our dairies are sanitary, our cows are inspected. We make a business of cleanliness.

Then the milk is sterilized.

You can use Van Camp's, as you can't raw milk, without a thought of germ infection.

And Van Camp's is even more economical.

It's as thick as thick cream. So thick that you add one part water for coffee.

Yet it costs half what cream costs.

Add two parts water and you have rich milk, and the cost per quart is about what you pay now.

But you have no waste. The saving in a year is enormous.

Then think what it means to have rich milk or cream always on tap when you want it.

Never too much or too little.

Are you missing all this while thousands of your neighbors enjoy it?

We have dairies in five states now, with 20,000 cows. Yet we are still unable to supply a tenth of the people who would want this milk if they knew it.

Please—for your own sake—try it today.

We publish an excellent cook book, showing the exact cost of all sorts of milk dishes. Please write for it—it's free. Address Van Camp Packing Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

Van Camp's Milk

Evaporated—Sterilized—Unsweetened

Prices: 5c and 10c per can, at your grocer's. It is cheaper still by the case of 48 cans. You will buy it in that way when you know it.

STODDARD DOES SCHOOL MURAL

His Picture in New York Institution One of His Best.

F. L. Stoddard, St. Louis artist, is the painter of a large mural decoration, "Womanhood," in the Hebrew Technical School for Girls in New York. Mr. Stoddard's chief mural works are in the St. Louis City Hall.

Mr. Stoddard's picture in the New York school contains a group of five young women in sylvan surroundings, with attendant nymphs. It is regarded as one of the most finished of his works.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Missouri—Partly cloudy, with probable showers in west portion tonight or Friday; slowly rising temperature.

Illinois—Fair tonight, with warmer in north and central portions; Friday partly cloudy and warmer.

Indiana—Fair tonight and probably Friday; slowly rising temperature.

BLIND SENATOR HOPES TO SEE, BUT DOUBTS IT

After All, He Argues Absence of Sight Is Not Big Handicap.

CHEERFUL AS A CHILD

Gore of Oklahoma Discusses His Infirmity and Wants No Pity.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—"Have I hope?" said Senator Gore of Oklahoma. "Of course I have, and lots of it. But I have no great expectations. Dr. Wilmer tells me that if my eyes had been treated fifteen years ago the one he is now working on would probably have been saved; and that is how my case stands. I am going to keep up the treatment during the Democratic convention at Denver and in the campaign, and if things come out all right I will submit to an operation next fall."

The blind Senator was listening to a friend reading from Mills' "Elements of Political Economy," at his boarding house, 1508 B street, and was as cheerful as a child out of school. He had been able to see one of the cuffs of his shirt less than twenty-four hours before, and less than three hours previously he had discerned the five fingers of one hand.

He declined to say anything for publication about these phenomenal occurrences because he feared he might raise false hopes in the breasts of his friends, but his joy was manifest.

"Several prose poems have been written about my blindness recently," said Senator Gore, "and I appreciate the sentiment expressed in them. But I don't want sympathy. I have never asked any man any odds in politics and I have taken all the hard knocks coming my way just as other people do. I am not an object of pity, and never intend to be. Other blind men have done much more than I have, and still others will doubtless far outstrip me in the future.

Says Sight Isn't Everything.

"All this talk about my having seen things is greatly exaggerated. I have a good imagination and a vivid memory. Haven't you imagined you saw things with your two good eyes and written about them and then had it proved to you that you didn't see anything of the kind? Probably you and I are in the same class after all.

"Inability to use my eyes is not as big a handicap as people seem to think, and whether Dr. Wilmer's experiment succeeds or fails, I will continue to mingle with you and show you that, to my mind, sight is not the greatest thing in the world after all."

At the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, the house physician and the internes were unmistakably pleased with the turn things had taken.

Occulist Has Doubts.

"We just won't talk," they said. "However, see Dr. Wilmer and he will tell you the news."

But the oculist has been fooled before, and he declined to admit even that the outlook was favorable. He simply reiterated that the chance of restoring sight to the eye was remote. However, he was palpably pleased with the progress of the treatment.

Senator Gore will make his final visit of the summer to the hospital this afternoon and will leave Washington Friday or Saturday for Oklahoma.

THE HISTORY OF A MONTH!

The month of May just closed was a record breaker for that month for the entire thirty years of the existence of the Post-Dispatch, in circulation, in circulation revenue and in volume of advertising. The figures:

Average circulation of the Post-Dispatch every day during the—
Month of May, 1907, 164,930.
Month of May, 1908, 176,064.
Total columns of advertising:
Month of May, 1907, 3156.
Month of May, 1908, 3237.
Why?

Because the Post-Dispatch has more actual bona fide paid circulation in the City of St. Louis and its suburbs than all the other English dailies in the same field combined!

It is the Home paper of St. Louis. The only paper in many homes. The one paper in every home. Circulation books open to all.

Proposals for City Printing.

OFFICE OF CITY REGISTER, CITY HALL, ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 9, 1908.

Pursuant to the requirements of the Charter and Ordinances of the City of St. Louis, sealed bids will be received at this office, Room 203, City Hall, until 12 o'clock noon, and opened on from the publishers of German newspapers in the City of St. Louis having a uniform daily circulation of over three thousand (3000) copies, for the city printing in the German language, for a term ending June 15, 1909.

Said bids must propose to do the printing and advertising required by law and ordinances to be published in newspapers in the German language, including the Mullanphy Emigrant Relief Fund and City Collector's Office, at a uniform price per line.

The printing must conform to the following, viz.:

Size, character and name of type, nonpareil; minimum length of line, twenty-six (26) ems; minimum width of column, thirteen (13) ems pica; character of the measurement to be employed to be nonpareil.

Bidders will be required to deposit with the City Treasurer the sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) and attach the Treasurer's receipt to each bid; also an affidavit that the daily circulation of the paper is over three thousand (3000) copies.

No bids will be considered in which there shall be an erasure or interlineation.

All bids must be indorsed "Proposals for City Printing in the German language."

Bids will be opened at the office of the City Register.

A bond of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

The paper receiving the contract will be required to furnish sixty (60) copies of its daily paper free of charge to the City Register.

The Register reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

PATRICK J. REGAN, Register.

MUSIC PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION IS ALL FIXED

Every Time the Band Lets Loose It Will Make a Bull's-Eye.

LOADED FOR UNCLE JOE

Cold Contribution for Fairbanks and Hot Shot for Some Other "Alsos."

CHICAGO, June 11.—When George Ade, or some other Indiana man with a peculiar sense of humor, gets up in the convention next week to nominate Fairbanks, and the band plays "All We Get From the Iceman Is Ice," the appropriateness of the air will not be an accident. The convention music has been all planned out.

The convention of 1904 was a "canned" one as to candidates and platform, but the music was overlooked, and the selections left to the bandmaster. The result was that, when the great "Pericarditis-alive-or-Raisuli-dead" cablegram was read from the platform, the band was playing "Teasing, Teasing, I Am Only Teasing You," when it ought to have been booming out the "Man Behind the Gun."

None of that this year. The music, as well as all the other arrangements, has been canned and put in cold storage at the White House cannery, to be unpacked in regular and designated order here next week.

Band Is Loaded for Uncle Joe.

When Uncle Joe Cannon's boom is turned loose, the musicians in the Coliseum gallery will oblige with "I'm Old, But I'm Awfully Tough."

Gov. Hughes' speechmakers will be greeted with "Not Because Your Hair Is Curly," or "After They Gather the Hay." Pennsylvania's presentation of Philander C. Knox will be the signal for a medley containing "Gee, But This Is a Lonesome Town," "Bye-bye, My Honey," and "You're Always Behind Like an Old Cow's Tail."

If the La Follette boom actually gets to the stage of a nominating speech, the men of trumpet and drum will be ready to delight the other senators present with "You Talk a Lot, But You Don't Say Much," and "That's What the Parrot Said."

When Leslie M. Shaw, who lately gave up his "campaign" headquarters, appears as a spectator, he will hear "Somebody's Been Here Since I've Been Gone," and "That 'Welcome' on the Mat Ain't Meant for Me."

At the mention of Foraker's name "Cold, Cold Ground" for Foraker, there will be no musical trifling, but a solemn and dignified rendition of "Massa's in De Cold, Cold Ground," that will bring the tears to every black and tan telegate lucky enough to get into the Coliseum.

"When "Our Peerless President" is referred to by the speakers—they are beginning to call him "Ex-President" since the crowd came on from Washington—a vocalist will take the cue and loosen a few specialties, varying from "Ah, Leave Me Not, Dear Heart" and "When You Know You're Not Forgotten," to "Just Kiss Yourself Good-by."

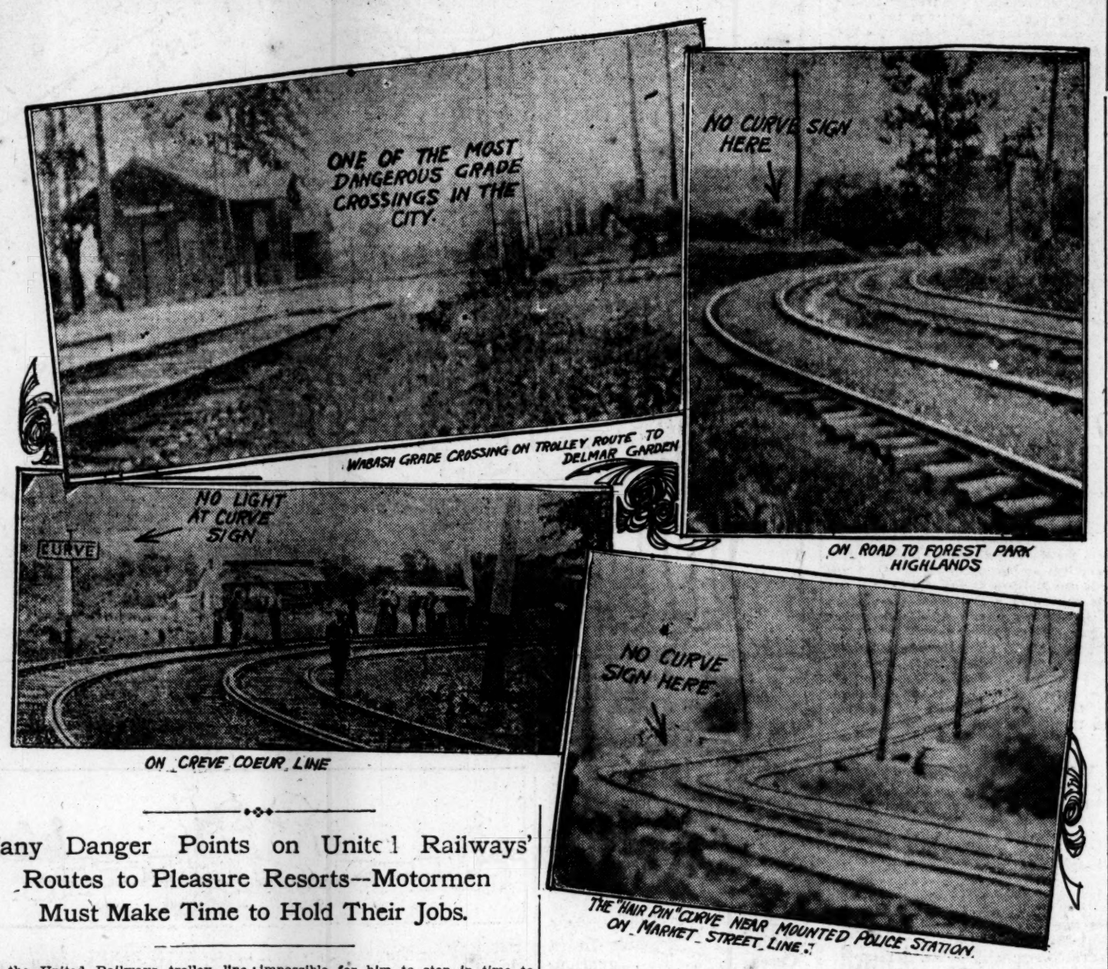

It is all fixed to give Taft the best of it in the music, just as in the balloting. "Love Me, and the World Is Mine," will be played as often as the convention will stand for it, and, just because the Secretary's orthodoxy has been called in question, the musicians will remind the delegates that "He Goes to Church on Sunday." If the Bartholdt contingent wants to hear "Under the Anheuser Bush," they will only have to ask for it. To keep, or to get, certain nationalities in line, such airs as "My Mariutch," "It Takes the Irish to Beat the Dutch," and "Under the Matzos Tree" will not be overlooked.

"I'm Happy When the Band Plays 'Dixie'" will be introduced to show Mr. Taft's appreciation of the support he is getting from the Southern States. "Little Alabama Coon" will greet the opening of the rollcall, "My Carolina Lady" and "In Dear Old Georgia" will be heard as the list of states proceeds. As the grand stampede occurs and the delegates pick up their state standards and group them around Ohio, after the approved form of convention procedure, the strains of "Much Obliged to You" will be heard from the gallery.

When the convention is seized by the tremendous enthusiasm which is sure to follow the nomination of Cortelyou for Vice-President, something like the "Thunderer" march might be supposed to be in order. But this will be on the third day, and the committee in charge has announced that the music on the third day will be from grand opera, the patriotic and popular airs coming on the first two days. So it will probably take printed slips to show the delegates that the band is playing "Make Room for the Factotum" from "The Barber of Seville," or Verdi's suggestive "Swear In This Hour."

No provision has been made for a fourth day's music, just as no tickets have been printed for a fourth day. The White House genius who is personally conducting this convention thinks three days are enough. The fourth day's music will be heard in Southern States when such negro delegates get back as may be persuaded to vote for Taft. It will sound a good deal like "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark."

CARS SPEEDING TO SUMMER GARDENS RACE WITH DEATH

Many Danger Points on United Railways' Routes to Pleasure Resorts—Motormen Must Make Time to Hold Their Jobs.

On the United Railways trolley line routes leading to amusement resorts beyond the city limits are many danger points where serious accidents like that on the Creve Coeur Lake line last Sunday night might occur at any time.

At none of these places are precautions taken to prevent disaster. Cars speed through the night laden with men, women and children.

Motormen who will be suspended or discharged if they fail to keep up the "schedule" set by the company thread their way gingerly through the crowded city streets and then "turn her loose" when they strike the open country.

Must Be "On Time."

The man at the controller must reach the end of the line "on time."

He turns the brass handle to the highest notch and races. Behind him in the cars are, possibly, 100 passengers.

On their face the rules of the company show that fast running is discountenanced. They bristle with injunctions against excessive speed.

"But," says the motorman, "I have to get to Forest Park Highlands at a certain time. I've got to stop for passengers and keep from hitting buggies and automobiles in town. How am I going to catch up if I don't shoot the power on hard when I strike the T rail on the private right of way?"

Where the Danger Lurks.

There is where the danger lurks—out in the country where the tracks have been laid over the hills and through the valleys and where the angle of curves has not been fixed by ordinance.

There is not a warning light on any curve along the lines to amusement resorts in St. Louis County.

Few persons who ride to Forest Park Highlands and West End Heights at night can restrain a gasp of apprehension when they come to what the motormen call the "jumping off place." This is a trestle with a 30 per cent grade just west of the Bates monument at the south end of Forest Park on the Market street line.

It is approached by a long, swinging curve, which makes it impossible for the motorman to see what is ahead of him until he is fairly on the incline.

The speed of the car is high even here, and were a motorman to discover an obstruction ahead of him it would be impossible for him to stop in time to avert an accident.

As the car, hurrying to a summer garden, tops this grade, the passengers' sensation is much the same as though they were starting down the steep runway of a "loop the loop." The difference is this—loop-the-loop cars are held to the rails by a mechanical contrivance and United Railways cars are not.

Were a car to leave the track on this "jumping off place" it would roll over and over and land in a ditch 20 feet below.

But the ride down the incline is only the beginning. From the foot of the trestle the car shoots onto a level stretch of track with a 20 per cent grade. It has then a momentum which would carry it half a mile with the power turned off.

One hundred and fifty yards ahead is a very sharp curve which has no signs for warning in daytime and no lights for guidance at night. There is no warning signal which tells the motorman to slow down to four miles an hour or any other reasonably cautious speed.

If the night is dark and if his headlight is small, as was the one on the Creve Coeur Lake car which jumped the track, killing one person and injuring 40 others, the motorman has no means of knowing that he is approaching a curve.

The Hairpin Curve.

His car goes leaping down a steep grade to king of all the danger points on the Market street line, the Hair Pin Curve, as motormen have christened it.

This is a peculiar piece of railroad engineering which would not be permitted under the city ordinances, the curve being almost a right angle. There are no guard rails, no lights, no signs.

Only its grip on the T rails keeps the car from going straight ahead into the bed of a creek 25 yards beyond or dashing against a stone culvert which bridges the stream. As the car takes this curve passengers some times are thrown into each other's laps and strap-hangers' arms are wrenched.

It is a sharper curve and, by reason of its surroundings, a more dangerous one than that on which last Sunday night's accident occurred.

There are points or equal peril on lines leading to other amusement resorts to which thousands of St. Louisans take nightly street car rides.

The Grade Crossing Peril.

One of these danger points is the Wabash grade crossing on the Delmar line two blocks east of Delmar Garden. There are gates and railroad signal lights here, but the trains from the South come around a sharp curve 50 yards south of the street railway tracks and the safety of the passengers depends on the vigilance of an aged watchman.

For eastbound cars on the Delmar line there is a danger point 50 yards west of the Wabash crossing. This is a sudden "jog" in the track which would make easy for a car to leave the rails when running at excessive speed.

There is a similar "jog" in the Broadway line tracks near Davis street on the route to Mannion's Park.

McCulloch Issues Warning.

Capt. Robert McCulloch, vice-president and general manager of the United Railways Co., has called the attention of all motormen to the necessity of approaching curves with caution and at a moderate rate of speed. He has announced also that he will have the Creve Coeur Lake curve, the scene of Sunday night's accident, relaid so that the angle will not be so sharp. Employes of the company also are inspecting other curves and danger points with a view to remedying defects.

HITCHCOCK IS ACQUITTED AND THANKS JURY

Verdict Brought in at 3 A. M. After Two Requests for Instructions.

NEW YORK, June 11.—After twice returning into court to ask information, the jury at 3 o'clock this morning acquitted Raymond Hitchcock of the charges brought by Helen Von Hagen.

The charge against Hitchcock was that he mistreated the Von Hagen girl. Her story was supported by statements of other girls, and was denied by the actor. He introduced witnesses to show that incidents related by the witnesses for the State did not occur.

In the first trial of Hitchcock Florence Whisten, who was expected to testify to the truth of the Von Hagen girl's story swore that there was no such occurrence in her presence. The Whisten girl is under indictment for perjury.

Only a few persons, among them the comedian's wife, Flora Zabelle, were in court when the verdict was rendered.

As there are other indictments pending, the actor was sent back to the Tombs. He shook hands with and thanked each of the jurors. The application for bail will be made today.

Hitchcock, when the verdict was rendered announced that he had severed his connections with Henry W. Savage, under whose management he gained prominence, and that his theatrical interests hereafter will be looked to by Felix Isman of Philadelphia.

Justice Goff, after charging the jury remained within call until a verdict was reached. Instructions were asked soon after midnight and the Judge and Hitchcock, both tired and wan, returned to court.

"Reasonable doubt" was the point that puzzled the jurors and after an exposition of the law in which they were practically told to judge for themselves, the 12 men returned to their deliberations.

WOMAN WHO GIVES UP WORK AT DORMITORY

MRS JOHN P. SEBREE

WIDOW TO ERECT HOTEL AS MONUMENT TO DEAD HUSBAND

Hostelry Will Be Named for Him and Will Be Gift to Church, Library and Y. M. C. A.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASSUMPTION, Ill., June 11.—The contract for a new hotel in this city was let yesterday to J. N. Fairchild of Danville, Ill., for $26,175, work to commence at once and be completed in five months.

Sarah A. Kammerer, widow of the late Phillip B. Kammerer, is erecting the hotel as a gift to the Presbyterian Church, Library and Y. M. C. A., in memory of the late Phillip B. Kammerer. The hotel is to be known as "Hotel Phillip."

Chicago Claims 2,140,000.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Unofficial estimates made by those in charge of the school census indicate that Chicago now has a population of about 2,140,000. The total population reported in the census of 1904 when the last general school census was taken was 1,714,144.

MRS. SEBREE OUT AS PROCTOR OF M'MILLAN HALL

Woman Who Would Not Allow Girl Students to Have Callers, Resigns.

Mrs. John T. Sebree, whose rule that girl students of Washington University should not receive young men's calls in the sorority parlors at McMillan Hall caused a protest from the young women, has resigned as proctor of McMillan Hall, and will depart this summer for the Philippines.

She will be succeeded by Mrs. Robert London, whose appointment has been determined on by Acting Chancellor Snow, though it has not been officially announced. Mrs. London is with her sister, Miss Lucy Smith, assistant principal of Mary Institute, at 3807 Delmar boulevard. She will take charge at the university next fall.

Mrs. Sebree said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that the difficulty in her work at McMillan Hall arose chiefly from the fact that the young women live in St. Louis, and spend a part of each week at their homes, and a part of the time at the dormitory. She said:

"My resignation is due to the fact that my husband, who has been for eight years Adjutant-General of the Department of Luzon, is to return to the United States, and I intend to make a home for him at whatever army point he may be placed."

NEW EXPLOSIVE FAILS TO FREEZE AT 4 BELOW ZERO

Highly Effective Nitro-Glycerin, the Work of Eight Months, Is Tested.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WINSTEAD, Conn., June 11.—C. Bissell Gillette of this city has invented a non-freezing, nitro-glycerin explosive, which, he asserts, is more powerful and less sensitive to concussion than dynamite. He has named it Gillite.

Demonstrations were made in a vacant lot off Broad street, where a 35-ton boulder and six smaller ones were blown to pieces.

Mr. Lamott and Mr. Haight, experts in explosives, employed by the Dupont Powder Co. of Wilmington, Del., were present. Mr. Gillette has been working on the invention eight months. It has been subjected to a temperature four degrees below zero for 24 hours without freezing.

INVITES FRIENDS TO FUNERAL

Woman Has a Vision and Is Warned of Death.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Mrs. Anna Kisielcia of Passaic, N. J., a widow of 27, invited her friends to attend her funeral.

Mrs. Kisielcia, since the death of her husband, has brooded much over religion. She says an angel appeared to her Tuesday night in a dream and told her that she is to die Sunday. She has made all arrangements for her funeral, and says she is waiting to go to heaven. "Nothing in this world is worth living for," she said, "except religion."

Affidavit on File in the Office of the City Register

ST. LOUIS, MO., May 25, 1908.

State of Missouri, City of St. Louis—ss.

Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public, in and for the City of St. Louis, Mo., W. C. Steigers, Business Manager of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who deposes and says that the regular editions of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for the first four months of the year 1908, after deducting all copies left over, unsold, spoiled in printing and unaccounted for, averaged full and complete papers, and further that the sales of the Post-Dispatch in the City of St. Louis exceed by many thousands the number of homes in St. Louis.

W. C. STEIGERS,
Business Manager.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 25th day of May, 1908.

(Seal.) ADOLPH H. R. SCHMID,
Notary Public, City of St. Louis, Mo.

"FIRST IN EVERYTHING."

THE GERMAN PRINTING COMBINE.

The additional cost of readvertising for bids for the city printing in German is a warning of the menace to the City Treasury in a "combine" of newspapers which monopolizes all the opportunities for publishing the printing in German as ordered by the City Charter. The city is compelled to pay $800 for a second advertising. That is far cheaper than the acceptance of the exorbitant bid would be, but there is no assurance of a satisfactory result. The combine still has the power to "hold up" the city this year, or next year.

The publication of the city records in German has no practical value, because the great majority of German-American citizens read English and take the English newspapers. Moreover, the printing of public records at the city's cost in any language except that of the country is an erroneous policy. The city printing in English might be abolished, or at least greatly reduced, without injury to citizens and to the advantage of the City Treasury. But charter amendments are required for these changes and meanwhile the city must be protected from the German newspaper combine.

The City Council can do effective work to this end by a thorough investigation which will give publicity to all the facts. It should find out precisely what are the relations between the newspapers in the "combine," what is the nature of the conspiracy by which competition for the printing contract is eliminated.

It should insist upon a full knowledge of the city's return for the cost of German printing—what is the circulation of the German newspaper bidders. It should find out also what is charged other advertisers for a similar service.

There is yet another phase of the situation. Has the law against combines and conspiracies among contractors to eliminate competition been violated? This question calls for the attention of the grand jury. The existence of a combine to squeeze the city in contracts is an outrage which demands drastic action.

Wade Ellis is lugging his planks to Chicago. They will be nailed down by the big stick along with the other planks of the platform. Nominating conventions are no longer deliberative assemblies.

DR. DAY THE GAIETY MAKER.

The retirement, either by leave of absence or resignation, of Chancellor Day of Syracuse University, will be a deplorable loss to the comic element of social and political life.

Dr. Day is tremendously in earnest. Whatever he believes he believes absolutely and every one who doesn't agree with him is suspect. He believes, for instance, that the modern millionaire is the summit, the acme of creation, the end toward which the creative work has labored ever since chaos was crystallized into a world. And the Standard Oil millionaire is the perfect flower and fruit of this age-long process.

Anybody who thinks manhood, not millionairism, is the end of the plan, is an anarchist, a socialist, an un-American disturber of the peace. There is no middle ground for Dr. Day, where the golden apples grow. There is only one side, which is his side to every question. He believes in what is right and, happily, he knows the right.

Dr. Day is one of many—the people who are the most comic of all comic characters, because they have no sense of humor. Earnest, loyal, brave, but yet losing much of their value because they can't see the point.

If George B. Cortelyou is nominated for the vice-presidency E. H. Harriman should be kicked out of the Ananias Club. These two eminent and practical men are forever associated in the public mind with one of the most discreditable passages in American history, and Harriman's share is not less evident for his election to the President's celebrated club.

THE WISE PRODIGAL.

Even should young Mr. C. W. Averill of Los Angeles, Cal., expend the greater portion of his recently inherited fortune of $10,000,000 in carrying out his announced determination to make 20,000 persons happy, his case will not be a confirmation of the truth of the old proverb that "a fool and his money are soon parted."

This is because, in making others happy, Mr. Averill will make himself happy, and money has no higher province or possibilities than this. No man can justly be called a fool who spends money to this end in the manner contemplated by this big-hearted heir to millions. It is his plan to use his wealth in helping men to succeed who have hitherto failed, in giving drunkards a chance to become sober men, in extending a friendly hand to ex-convicts and in essaying the reformation of fallen women. Every dollar thus expended will be wisely and beneficently employed, folly-stricken though its employment may seem to more selfish souls.

And Mr. Averill himself will be the greatest beneficiary of his own good work. The imminently perilous curse of suddenly acquired great wealth will, in his case, be transformed into a blessing. For every heart lightened by the helping of Mr. Averill's money, his own heart will be made even lighter, and it is a certain result that his own upliftment of character will bring him far more than value received for the money spent. It is a wise prodigality which he contemplates—the pity is that the world has so few such prodigals.

It is suggested that if Senator Gore's eyesight is restored he might see Stone. Probably, but are we sure that Stone could always see Gore?

THE REPUBLICAN DILEMMA.

The black cloud in the Republican firmament will not be dissipated by adopting the Burke plan of representation in conventions.

This proposes to allow four delegates-at-large from each state and one for every 10,000 Republican votes cast at the presidential election four years preceding.

Doesn't this look like a surrender of the fifteenth amendment in the South, an acknowledgment that negro suffrage is a failure, that the Republican party is unable to make good its pledges or finds it inconvenient to redeem them and bows to the white will of the Southern States, which, ignoring the amendment, declares that the negro shall not vote?

Moreover, if the Republicans adopt this as the party policy, will they not be forced by opinion in their own rank and file to raise the question of Southern representation in Congress and in the electoral college and make that a commanding political issue? That is the logic of the situation. Does the party feel strong enough to raise a question which contains more explosive material than any since the slavery issue was settled by war?

The Republican party has always been wise enough or lucky enough to steer clear of all dangers and preserve its organization and voting strength unimpaired. But the administration machine has dragged the party to a position where it is confronted with a greater menace than any hitherto encountered. It is no great matter what happens to the black man. He has no friends, and the party may be able to dispense with his vote in the North. But when an attempt is made to push the thing to its logical and moral conclusion by depriving the South of any of its weight in national politics, Pandora's box will be opened. Will the Republicans be inclined to let loose the plagues?

Everybody hopes the passing of the Missouri Pacific dividend will not embarrass the young De Sagan couple when they begin housekeeping.

THE "BROTHER ACT" OF 1908.

Mr. Bryan, who so greatly admires everything that Mr. Roosevelt does, cannot but be lost in admiration of the President's autocratic control ot Republican action in Chicago.

Imitation is the sincerest flattery. Surely Mr. Bryan will essay to duplicate in Denever the achievement of his great and good friend in Chicago, commanding the Democratic party, as Mr. Roosevelt commanded the Republican, to nominate for the presidency the man of his dictation.

There will be but one point of difference. Mr. Bryan is himself the man of Mr. Bryan's choice for the nomination, while Mr. Roosevelt contents himself with Taft. But the principles will be the same. It is the perilous principle of one-man rule.

"Me and Teddy"—at Chicago and at Denver—the great and heretofore unparalleled "brother act" in the arena of American politics. One ticket doesn't admit to both shows, but the American people should contemplate both spectacles. Thoughtfully, too—there's a lesson to be learned.

Grover Cleveland is happily improving. One kind of news from Denver in July might do him enough good to insure his health for years to come—and it would not have to be the news of his own nomination, either.

IT WAS UNFORTUNATE.

Mr. George Gould is quoted as saying that "the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal, unfortunately, was over capitalized."

This is an important admission. There is such a thing as over capitalization, and it may be unfortunate.

People who are neither high nor frenzied financiers have been saying this for years, but they have been laughed to scorn by the masters of the mysteries of wind and water. But they were right, after all, if Jay Gould's son has not borne false witness.

Ever since its appearance as an active political force in 1856 the Republican party has been led. But in 1908 it is driven like a herd of cattle. Will the men of light and leading in the organization submit to such treatment?

MAKING THE FLAG TOO COMMON.

A Buffalo (N. Y.) school principal is quoted against the daily display of the flag. When it was raised only on great anniversaries it attracted attention and interest, and the children were eager to hear the story of the day.

Now, when the flag flies over every public school in New York State every day in the year, it attracts no attention whatever and makes no impression.

There is something in this. Patriotism is a sacred emotion, but can be dulled and deadened by making it too common. Children will even cease actively to love their parents if constantly reminded that they owe this duty of love. So the flag will cease to be the symbol of national pride and glory if associated every day with the sights and sounds of the commonplace routine.

If there were anything Napoleonic but his name about Mr. Bonaparte, the country might object to his sitting on the lid, on the ground that he would not willingly get off again. His grand uncle would never have believed it possible for one of the blood to become so tame.

Well, anyway, the Democratic roundup and branding at Denver won't be done quite so much in the Rough Rider cowboy fashion as is the case with the Republican at Chicago.

Big Bill Taft's physical proportions may help some to make him the only man the Republicans can see for the presidential nomination.

If New York acquires many more East Side 110-pound babies little old Manhattan Island will surely tilt upward from the west.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Letter writers must give correct name and address. No letter will be printed that exceeds 200 words.

A Union Station Park.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Don't you think it is about time for the rough necks in the House of Delegates and the smooth necks in the City Council to get together and make a noise like getting the grounds in front of Union Station and make a park out of same? RED NECK.

The Eighteenth Street Bridge.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Myself and other South Side friends have been wondering what is the matter with our Street Commissioner that Eighteenth street viaduct is impassable for so long a period. Perhaps if he had interests at Eighteenth and Papin streets, depending on the support of transient public he would rush the repairs along. If this work was being conducted in the West End it could be wagered that all summer would not be required. A SOUTH SIDE KICKER.

Favoritism.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Wouldn't this be a good time to take up this matter of expending public moneys in printing the city's official business in a foreign language, and dispose of it, as was the question of spending the public school moneys for the teaching of a foreign language in the public schools taken up and disposed of some years ago? No favoritism in the expending of public moneys ought to be shown to any portion of our rather mixed population, and this without any disrespect to our Teutonic citizens. JUSTICE.

Inside Car Signs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Many times when in a hurry one gets on a car without noticing signs on car, pay fare, ride long distance out of the way, and notice you are on the wrong car. This happened to me one day. Unluckily, I only had 5 cents. The conductor would not give me a transfer to ride back, which was the rule, I suppose. I had to return on foot and get 5 cents from a friend, causing delay and embarrassment. This would be avoided by placing a few cards in each car which reads thus: "This car goes to"——. These cards hung in each car, telling where it goes, would cause less confusion. A. READER.

A Rejected Applicant.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am a citizen for the last 23 years. I made application for a position as patrolman on the St. Louis Police Force. I am 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weigh 174 pounds. I qualified for the position in every way, and the last question the Police Board asked of me was, "Were you ever employed by the United Railways Co.?" The answer was, "Yes, for over three years," and was discharged. I was rejected because I was discharged from the United Railways Co. Now, what I would like to ask the Police Board is this: Is the United Railways Co. the whole city; does the United Railways Co. rule the Police Board? AN INJURED CITIZEN.

Kellar and the Spooks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have never seen a Spiritualist camp, and don't know about dark seances and "materialization," so I suppose Carrington may have told the truth. But when Kellar bobs up as a witness it is for all to laugh. He says he knows what miserable frauds the Fox sisters were, because he knew them. As he was not born until the year after the Fox frauds took place, he must have been a very warm baby. His statement that Edgar Home fooled the scientists is of equal value, there having been no such person as "Edgar" Home. However, perhaps Mr. Kellar is excusable for perceiving an opportunity to advertise his show. Business is business. D. P.

Untidiness.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In all the agitation about the picnics in Forest Park, I have seen very little mention of what I consider the prime cause that led to their prohibition. It is the reckless scattering of papers, bottles and other debris by the picnickers. The way papers of all kinds and sizes are thrown on our streets in violation of the ordinance is a disgrace to any civilized community. The Mayor should issue a proclamation that on and after a certain date this law will be strictly enforced, and then a few examples would probably be sufficient (aided by prominent publicity in the newspapers) to educate people in the direction of making the "City Beautiful."

JOSEPH O'GRADY,
4525 Page boulevard.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

From the Washington Post.

Xenedohicna is the name of a member of the New York police force, and from here it looks like no easy matter to prove that he came from Ireland.

CAMPAIGN SCANDAL IN GEOGIA.

From the Washington Post.

One of the candidates for the governorship of Georgia is charged with maintaining a luxurious ballroom at his home. If it turns out to be a highball room, the story is bound to make votes for him.

LIVING YOUR FAITH.

From the Baltimore News.

The St. Louis way of bringing about prosperity by saying it is here and then going ahead and acting as if it were has its good points. Living up to the faith that is in you is the best way to demonstrate its strength.

THE STINGIEST MAN.

From the Danville (Tenn.) Advocate.

Gallatin claims to have the stingiest man in Tennessee, if not in the world, and a premium is offered for his superior in close-fistedness. He got married to a home girl to save expenses. They walked around the square for a bridal tour. He bought her a nickel's worth of stick candy for a wedding present, and then suggested that they save the candy for the children.

HAMMOND AND HALLELUJAH.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The notion of the Houston Post that "There is much in the career of John Hays Hammond, who, as chief consulting engineer of the Guggenheim mining interests, draws a yearly salary of $500,000, to inspire effort on the part of young men ambitious to win wealth and distinction by pure merit and persistent application," is right enough as well as suggestive; but has not the Post observed that the Republicans are already considering him for Vice-President? What with his income of half-a-million, and Brother Charlie's and Brother Horace's thirty millions, they would have a picnic indeed. Taft and Graft, Hammond and Hallelujuah; Oh, honey!

A NOVEL LURE TO CHURCH.

From Leslie's Weekly.

A novel scheme for attracting men to religious services on Sunday has been devised by the Rev. Sydney Goodman of Atlantic City, whose example pastors in general are not likely to follow. Mr. Goodman has established what he calls the "Men's Church," and besides preaching a sermon, he provides an entertainment consisting of moving pictures, stereopticon views, and singing by professionals. During the entire proceedings—even the sermon—the men present are permitted to smoke, cigars and pipes being furnished by the preacher. Naturally the meetings are so well attended that a larger hall may soon be necessary. Mr. Goodman is the assistant pastor of a regular church, and he has had to undergo criticism for what savors too much, in the opinion of many of his parishioners, of Salvation Army ways. But some conservative church members who at first strongly opposed Mr. Goodman's methods are said now to have been won over to them.

WHERE IT HURTS.

JUST A MINUTE FOR VERSE AND HUMOR.

Written for the Post-Dispatch by Clark McAdams.

FOR OLD TIMES' SAKE.

For old times' sake
I wouldn't mind
Commencement
Of the good old kind.

I wouldn't mind the Pretty sight
Of all the graduates
In white,
And here and there
Along the row
A downy-lipped
Young man or so.

But it is none of these
That calls
Me back to those Beloved halls,
Nor beauty blooming
In chiffon,
In French batiste,
And Persian lawn.

But rather that
I've lately grown Quite rusty on
The fall of Rome,
And have almost Forgotten just
The lessons found
Therein for us.

For old times' sake
I wouldn't mind
Some oratory
Of that kind.

THE JUNE GROOM.

The June bride is being discussed and agreeably anticipated on every hand. How about the June groom?—Charlotte Observer. Oh, he doesn't matter.—Washington Herald. Doesn't, eh? Why, he's just as important as any of the rest of the scenery.—Indianapolis News. Nonsense. You'd never know he was there save for the chains clanking and the furtive glances the poor captive throws around.—New York Telegram. Serves him right. He should have thrown a few of those furtive glances around while he was free.

Tramp: Is this a boarding house, madam?

Landlady (incensed by the insinuation): Beggars should not be choosers. Sic 'im, Tige!

SOCRATES ON THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

(Scene: The tomb of Demosthenes. Time: Twilight.)

SOCRATES: Ah, Bryanus! What brings you here?

BRYANUS: I sometimes come in a quiet hour to muse.

SOCRATES: I have been wishing to meet you. Let us talk of the Democratic party.

BRYANUS: Agreed.

(They sit down.)

SOCRATES: I am very much concerned for the Democratic party, Bryanus. It needs young men. This morning I dropped in to hear the preliminaries of the Republican convention. I observed that young men are in command. There is Hitchcock, who is major domo for Taftius. He is a young man. His lieutenants are young men. I notice that Rooseveltius has pushed the young men to the front all along the line. Wherever you find the Republicans in convention or conference, you find many young men, with here and there an old gentleman who is taking no active part in the proceedings. Now, that is not true of the Democratic party, Bryanus.

BRYANUS: No, not to the same extent, Socrates.

SOCRATES: Nor to any extent worth speaking of, Bryanus. The Democratic party has become a sort of old men's club. If you look in on one of its councils, you discover a number of graybeards with their heads together, and one or two young men peering in through a knot-hole. You, Bryanus, are the leader of that party; but you have not pushed the young man to the front, as Rooseveltius has done. You one time asked about the young man Absalom, and then took to your bosom the old man Methuselah. What is the result, Bryanus? The Chicago convention is going to be run by youngsters who are enthusiastic about their party and expect to get something out of it. But the Denver convention is going to look like a conference of Mormon elders, or a reunion of the first white child born in Colorado. I don't know who is to be your generalissimo upon that occasion, Bryanus, but I do know that he will be some old grand-daddy who rattles around in a stiff shirt like a dried-up pea. The convention will chiefly consist of old-timers like the patriarch Wattersonius. You will be given away by Pap Wetmorius, and no one will be able to get in the hall who cannot remember farther back than the venerable John I. Martinus.

BRYANUS: There is some truth in what you say, Socrates.

SOCRATES: I am very glad to hear you say that, Bryanus. Unquestionably, there are ways in which these old tops can serve the party; but when they estrange the young men, they do it a great injury, Bryanus. A party that is dying off at one end and scaring off at the other cannot win victories, Bryanus.

BRYANUS: No, it cannot, Socrates. What would you say to the young man Augustus Thomas for my ring-master at Denver?

SOCRATES: It would work a miracle in the ranks, Bryanus.

BANJO HOBO.—Contracts must be kept. If you contracted to get the fan, and there was no deception, a court would probably hold you to your agreement.

MAY.—The "kind of cold sore" will probably soon pass away. Try a moderate, healthful diet. Keep the system in order and you will not easily take more cold.

B.—Rub crude petroleum into the scalp at night. Apply it with a sprayer or from the palm of the hand. Once a week is sufficient. (Read rules before writing questions.)

ANXIOUS.—A book, jewelry or a box of cigars might please a soldier. Uncle Samuel now provides his soldiers with so much that it is not easy to name suitable presents for them.

A. B. C.—A good bluing may be made at home with one ounce powdered indigo, one-half ounce powdered oxalic acid and one quart soft water. This should be well mixed. A tablespoonful is enough for one ordinary-sized tub.

A. B.—You may have had a poor quality of gasoline for your portieres. Here is another cleansing formula: Two bars white soap, shaved fine; one gallon of water; four ounces borax; 16 ounces salsoda; four ounces pulverized Fuller's earth. Boil until well mixed; remove from the fire. Add three gallons of water and half pint of alcohol.

B. C.—"What does it cost in all to get married?" depends upon the persons and conditions. There have been marriages that cost less than $5. A New York bride, on the other hand, had a wedding gown valued at $10,000, and her trousseau is said to have cost more than $60,000. A pair may spend according to their means. Marriage not extremely stylish may be had at $100 to $200.

Lay glass on flat table, face downward; place foil upon damaged part; lay sheet of paper over foil, and place upon it a block of wood or piece of marble with perfectly flat surface; put on it sufficient weight to press down tight; let it remain a few hours. Foil will adhere to glass.

X. Y. Z.—Squeaky shoe preventives: 1. Soak the soles in oil. 2. Bend the soles back and forth to relieve the stiffness of the leather to some extent. Then moisten the soles, particularly along the edges, with a wet sponge or cloth. Try the limbering-up process again and repeat the treatment until the squeak ceases. 3. Dip a piece of flannel in boiling linseed oil and rub it over the soles and around the edges, which should then be turned upward to dry. 4. Drive a peg into the middle of the sole. 5. Stand them over night in a shallow basin of cold water, just deep enough to thoroughly wet the soles. Then rub in plenty of vaseline. (This not only makes them softer and more flexible, but also slightly waterproof.)

OLYMPIA.—Center of population in the United States, 1900, was six miles southeast of Columbus, Ind. In 1880 it was eight miles west by south of Cincinnati. Since 1790 it has moved 519 miles. In 1890 the center of negro population was near Rome, Ga., and traveling gulfward. If Alaska and other recent island accessions to our territory are excluded, the center of area of the United States is in Smith County, in Northern Kansas, about three miles north of Reamsville, and some 15 miles north by west of Smith Center. But if Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines are included, then this country's center of area is out in the Pacific Ocean, west of the northern part of the coast of Oregon and south of the eastern part of the south coast of Alaska.

D. E. T.—Hydrate of chloral is used for offensive perspiration. Mix equal parts of the chloral and distilled water and apply with a cloth after the thorough cleansing with warm water and soap. In such cases care should be taken to rinse every particle of soap from the skin; then while wet use a few drops of ammonia on a wet cloth; this at once deodorizes; wipe dry and use the chloral. It is necessary to wear shields that must be changed every day, and washed. The underwear should be dampened with a little good cologne in the arm pits and shields should be rinsed in water with a few drops of carbolic acid and dried in the sun and air; the clothes should be aired and waists turned wrong side out and sunned as often as possible.

H. H.—The Chicago fire began at 11 o'clock Saturday night, Oct. 7, 1871, at Clinton and Van Buren streets, in a planing mill. It burned all night and part of the following day. Sunday night fire began in Mrs. O'Leary's stable, at Jefferson and De Koven streets, on the West Side, and burned 24 hours. During the 48 hours 17,450 buildings were burned, of which 12,000 were homes. About 100,000 persons were homeless. The loss was estimated to be $200,000,000. The fire covered an area four miles long and one mile wide through the center of the city. Many persons were killed. The population in 1871 was 388,000. There is a story that the second fire was caused by Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicking over a lantern in her stable, and there is a rhyme running:

"There was a bovine of Chicago;
She made up her mind to let law go.
This wicked old tramp
Kicked over a lamp,
And away on the winds went Chicago."

ROBERT'S PIECE.

ONCE there was a little boy, whose name was Robert Reece,
And every Friday afternoon he had to speak a piece,
So many poems thus he learned that soon he had a store
Of recitations in his head, and still kept learning more.

And now this is what happened: He was called upon one week,
And totally forgot the piece he was about to speak!
His brain he cudgled! Not a word remained within his head!
And so he spoke at random, and this is what he said:

"My Beautiful, my Beautiful, who standest proudly by,
It was the schooner Hesperus—the breaking waves dashed high!
Why is this Forum crowded? What means this stir in Rome?
Under the spreading chestnut tree, there is no place like home.

"When Freedom from her mountain height
cried, Twinkle, little star,
Shoot if you must this old gray head, King
Henry of Navarre!
Roll on, thou deep and dark blue castled
crag of Drachenfels,
My name is Norval, on the Grampian Hills, ring out, wild bells!

"If you're waking, call me early, to be or not to be,
The curfew must not ring tonight! Oh, woodman, spare that tree.
Charge, Chester, charge! On, Stanley on! And let who will be clever!
The boy stood on the burning deck, but I go on forever!"

—Carolyn Wells, in St. Nicholas.

HOWELLS' METHOD.

WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS does not plan the details of his story first, says W. De Wagstaffe in Book News. In his own words, this is how he gets to work:

"A story does not exist till it is told," he said. "The actual life of a story is the telling of it. You cannot teach people how to write. A novel is born very much on the same plan as any other event in the artistic, the ethical, or the active world. You intend a certain course of action, and something grows from the germ of your intention. My method of work is a sort of psychic puzzle to myself. I usually have the last word of my book, the last picture, before I begin. I know when and where I am going to end. Each day's work seems to be the result of a new motive. Before putting it on paper there comes two or three months of misery, getting ready."

In all this there is nothing to show that the author will be taken by surprise with an emotion, that the heart of the clay will ever be neglected by the discipline of the head. Of course, this is the highest test of perfect craftmanship. It is the art sense at its best. Even the initial suggestion of a Howells novel may occur under classic inspiration, to be converted to something practical and modern.

"A Modern Instance," Mr. Howells said, came to him after witnessing a performance of Janauschek in Euripides' play, "Medea."

"I said to myself, 'This is an Indiana divorce case,'" said Mr. Howells, and the novel was born.

SPEED.

STANDING at the crossroad, we see a mere black speck in the distance growing with seeming sloth. We hear a purring sound, increasing, developing, then leaping into a roar like thunder. Volumes of dust rise like smoke from the mouth of a fire-breathing monster and the twentieth century dinosaur flies, screams past—merely an automobile racing at a rate of from eighty to one hundred miles in an hour.

We stand at the railway crossing. In the distance an indistinct object winks into view, far beyond where the two lines of shining rails meet together upon the track bed. On it comes with a swift spreading circumference; it whizzes by in a breath-taking rush and is gone almost before we realize that it is a modern electric train. Such a train in Germany has been run at the rate of 130.4 miles an hour.

On the seashore we hear a scream, thin and piercing. A boat siren shrills its warning. Something rises from the water, snorting, splashing and tearing frantically through the ocean waves. It is past and ere we get our glasses to bear upon it, it is distant again. Merely a racing motor-boat, trying to make more than thirty miles an hour on the watery turf.—Technical World.

COL. TODHUNTER ON POWDER RAGS.

Any Dadfrazzled Man Who Robs a Woman of Her Greatest Comfort Astounds the Philosopher, Who Is Reported for the Post-Dispatch

BY RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS.

"WELL, suh," said Col. Thurs. T. Todhunter, reflectively, "that-there St. Louis husband who threw his wife's powder rag out of the window because he objected to her primpin' up to go downtown has got so much to learn about women that I'll be dadblamed if I don't feel sorry for him, suh.

"It's perfectly amazin' to me anyway, suh, how many men rush in where angels fear to tread, as the poet says, suh, gettin' married and undertakin' to pass the remainder of their days peacefully with a proposition that they ain't made no more attempt to study and comprehend than a hog ponders over the appointed ways of the shinin' stars in the celestial firmament about his fool head, suh. They wouldn't do it in no other case under the sun, suh—they ain't no one of 'em that would try to manage a hoss, or a new-fangled lawn mower or an automobile, without knowin' something, at least, about the general principles governin' the dadfrazzled thing, suh. But a woman—hy, suh, they ain't anything over 18 that wears breeches in all this vale of tears, suh, but what's as sure he can manage a woman as if he held a pilot's license for that identical job, suh.

"That's just the trouble with this-here St. Louis husband, suh. He don't seem to realize that the Good Master ain't given no man on this earth the right to separate a woman from her powder rag, suh. She wouldn't be a woman if she didn't carry one tucked away somewhere, suh, dabbin' it at her nose whenever she gets the chance, suh, and they ain't no flyin' man qualified to appreciate the amount of comfort she gets from them dabs, suh. The only thing a wise man can do, suh, is to thank his Maker that she can derive happiness from such a performance—it helps to keep him happy as well as her, suh, if he only knew it.

"Yes, suh—and I'd like to have a friendly heart-to-heart talk with this St. Louis husband and give him a few valuable pointers about the danger of foolin' with one of the dadblamedest buzz-saws of the whole dadblamed mystery of sex, suh. A lioness robbed of her young ain't a bit more savage than a woman robbed of her powder rag, suh—I tell you, the spectacle of that St. Louis husband a-throwin' his wife's out of the window was enough to make a man's blood run cold, considerin' what's likely to follow such a Tom Fool demonstration, suh. I'll be shot full of holes if I've got over it yet myself.

"And I'm pretty well seasoned in facin' the unexpected hazards of matrimonial existence, suh."

WHAT BECAME OF THE DOLLAR?

MR. CHICK N. BYER goes into the country after poultry. Looking over Mrs. Haphazard's offerings, he agrees to take 30 of them at the rate of three for a dollar, or $10 in all. Nearby lives Mrs. Bird, whose chickens prove so much better he agrees to take 30 at the rate of two for a dollar, or $15 in all. Sixty chickens thus contracted for would, therefore, cost him $25. But, when he comes to settle, he makes this offer: 'For every five chickens I will give $2." This seemed fair and they agreed. Yet when Mr. Byer got his 60 chickens, he had obtained them for $24, since five is contained in 60 twelve times. Query: What became of the other dollar? Send your answer to the Post-Dispatch and tell how you found it.

Puzzle Editor, Post-Dispatch.

I find that Mr. Chicken Buyer in his first deal with Mrs. Haphazard, to pay her for her 30 chickens at the rate of 33 1-3 cents each, which makes 510. But according to his second deal of 5 chickens for $2 her chickens cost him 40 cents each, which makes her $12 for her 30 chickens instead of $10. In his first deal with Mrs. Bird he was to pay 50 cents each for her 30 chickens, which makes $15. But in the deal of 5 chickens for $2 she received only 40 cents each, which makes $12 instead of $15. So Mrs. Haphazard was profited $2 on the second deal and Mrs. Bird was loser $3, and Mr. Chicken Buyer was profited $1, and he is the man that got away with the $1. BEN KEELER, 1713 Wyman avenue, East St. Louis.

Puzzle Editor, Post-Dispatch.

The answer to your chicken example is this: 30 chickens at 3 for $1 equals 33 1-3 cents each; 30 chickens at 2 for $1 equals 50 cents each. The cost of two being 83 1-3 cents. While paying for them at 5 for $2 equals 40 cents each, or 30 cents for two; 3 1-3 cents difference in cost of every two. Therefore, the difference on the total would be 30 times 3 1-3 cents, which equals $1. F. W. ARNOLD,

WOMEN DO MUCH OF THE COURTING.

Helen Oldfield Thinks That They Are Right in Encouraging the Men.

IT cannot be denied that the women of today do much of the courting; still their lovemaking is, at least, supposed to be done sub rosa. The rose bush may be scant of foliage and small of stature, but, all the same, it is there; the form of oblation to the proprieties is religiously observed. For example, it is patent to every one who chooses to see that Mary Smith is "running after" Johnny Jones. Folks laugh, more or less good naturedly, at her transparent attempts to catch him, and regard as a good joke his sheepish acceptance of or evident efforts, clumsy or adroit, to avoid her. But some men, John himself most of all, and all women, would be by far more shocked than amused if it came to their knowledge that Mary had actually asked John to marry her, instead of merely plainly giving him to understand that he had only to ask in order to receive. Every one can instance marriages of which people say more or less openly, "She married him," with a marked emphasis upon the pronouns. It is worthy of remark that such marriages rarely are happy ones. The old paths may be dull and prosaic, yet all the same, being worn smooth by long usage, they who walk therein are less likely to stumble than they who seek out new ways by which to attain their ends.

Yet, if every woman must perforce sit at home until a voluntary suitor comes to sue, if neither she nor any of her friends may take any steps with the purpose of securing a husband for her, it is beyond doubt that the number of marriage licenses yearly issued will be fewer than they are now.

Besides, none can deny to a woman the right to encourage a man nor claim that the men who absolutely need no encouragement are the rule. Few men have the nerve, so to speak, to swoop down upon a woman and annex her without so much as beckoning finger or an inviting look upon her part. What encouragement includes and the precise point at which it degenerates into "running after" a man is the momentous question.

There is no gainsaying the fact that many men would never marry the women whom they do were they not tactfully, skilfully beguiled into matrimony. But the snare is not spread in the sight of the bird; the man gently and sweetly is led into the toils; gradually drawn on so that he fancies himself the hunter, not the hunted.

THE BROKER'S WIFE

ANYONE who has heard an older child explain something to a younger, when he did not want the younger to understand, has a very good example of the way in which some men talk over business with their wives.

Take an example: Mary Brown is naturally prudent. It worries her to think that she and her broker-husband may be living beyond what they ought to spend. She wonders how much John is saving as capital. He tells her of the amounts he has "invested in the firm;" of the valuable securities he has in the safety-deposit box; also of the life insurance, which alone would enable her and the children to be comfortable even if everything else should go. How is she to know that the investments and the securities all go if the firm goes, and that a life insurance policy is worse than a white elephant to the speculator who has "gone broke?" Besides, her John seems to her a wonder of judgment and sagacity, and gradually her fears are assuaged.

John never tells her of his mistakes. Business may be "dull" or perhaps he is busy putting through an important project, which, if all goes well, will make them a good deal of money. He does not tell her, however, that if it fails to go through, he may lose his entire fortune. Mary thinks that other women's husbands are reckless gamblers, and wonders how they can live as they do, with the whole bottom likely to drop out at any moment! That other men's wives are asking that identical question about the Browns is a fact of which she is blissfully unconscious.—From "The Wives of the Pseudo-Rich," in Everybody's.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL.

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

THE only original thing about some men is original sin.

A man always remembers a girl's first kiss the longest—because usually that's the only one he had any trouble in getting.

To keep a man's interest at high pressure deal yourself out to him in homeopathic doses; one only wants more of anything that one cannot get enough of.

Love is a sort of club sandwich affair, composed of large slices of selfishness, seasoned with passion, spiced with jealousy and covered with thin layers of sentiment.

Wonder if it never occurs to the woman who marries a man to reform him that the sort of person who is headstrong enough to have made a "past" for himself isn't likely to sit quietly by and let somebody else carve out his future for him.

Man is such a paradox that a woman is forced to make him believe that she doesn't take him seriously—or she won't get a chance to take him at all.

Alas that the fever of love should so often be followed by a chill!

Hold on tight to your temper 'round the curves of matrimony.

The average woman goes from the altar into total eclipse, from which she never emerges until she becomes a widow—since husbands never look at their wives and other men don't dare.

Cold water never cured a fever and a woman's indifference never put out the divine fire of a man's love.

A man isn't as curious as a woman— because usually a woman tells him everything before he has a chance to become curious.

Those who have tried matrimony, like those who have finished with the morning paper, always say, "There's nothing in it;" but somehow that never keep the rest of us from wanting to see for ourselves.

THE TONS AND TONS WE CARRY.

ALTHOUGH it is considered vulgar to carry a parcel, and a girl who buys a few cents' worth of tawdry stuff has it coming home to her in a wagon covered with lacquer, nevertheless, counting all mankind, it is supposed safe to say that 2,000,000 of tons are carried constantly by human beings, and that in but one variety of merchandise, clothes. In some cases, such as the brass wire of the Africans or the mail of a medieval knight, as much as 100 pounds are borne by a single individual.

IN THE SMART SET.

WILLIAMSON: I thought that Bixby was going to retire gracefully from politics. I see he has joined the prohibitionists.

Henderson: Well, don't you call that retiring from politics?

Williamson: Ye-es, but not gracefully.

She: I think it very strange that man was made first.

He: Quite the natural order. Money has to be made before a woman can spend it.

Mrs. A. (aged 23): How old ought a woman to be to give up calling her mother "mamma?"

Mrs. B. (aged 43): I don't know. I'll ask mamma.

Mr. Barebeigh: Were you up late last night?

She: No; I was rather expecting you this evening.

Gillespie: I wonder what sort of collector I would make?

Hardrum: You might let me have $20 for ten days and find out.

FOUR IN ROW MOVE BROWNS UP IN THE RACE

McAleer's Men Fighting Now to Hold Place in the Close Running.

By JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Another victory for the Browns over the Washington team has placed Mr. McAleer and his team solidly in the second harbor of the American League's raging sea, and a respite for the Brownies' crew seems in sight, although one never knows when the storm will brea k forth again.

George Stone and Danny Hoffman did some excellent sticking in the second encounter of the series with the Senators, and the game went to St. Louis by a count of 4 to 2. At the same time Chicago got another victory from the Athletics and retained her feeble grasp of the top place, while Cleveland was soused by Boston and rudely pushed into third position. Detroit and New York struggled through 12 innings and the Tigers came out on top, leaving New York clinging desperately by a thread to the last place in the first division.

The victory of yesterday makes four straight for the Browns, and it seems that they have just begun.

Two more games are to be played with the Washington Club, then will come Boston for four and New York for four, which will close the invasion of the Eastern teams. Before these games have been finished, Manager McAleer hopes to have his team tied onto the top round of the ladder, and he believes all four of the Eastern clubs will be pushed to the four bottom places.

Bailey in Fine Trim.

Young Billy Bailey appeared as the pitcher for the Browns yesterday, and Bill was better than he has been this season. He should have shut out the Senators, and did for seven innings, but a bobble of a ground ball set him off his bearings and caused him to change his plans entirely, and the result was his undoing, for he wavered so badly that Mr. McAleer pulled him from the box after the visitors had tied up the score, and Big Bill Dinneen came in and saved the game, thanks to Stone and Hoffman, who did the attacking.

However, Bailey had everything yesterday but experience. Only five hits were made off him all told. He was not batted out of the box at all. He was taken out to let an old head at the game settle the disturbance raised by the Washington players. Bill settled it in a hurry, and in the last half of the same inning the Browns hit in a couple of runs that clinched the victory, but they had a little help from the visitors, who threw the ball madly around the field in wildest desperation, while one of the runs scampered from first base to the home plate.

Ely Cates did the pitching for Cantillon. He is one of those old-fashioned twirlers who depends on his cleverness, his fielding and a good curve ball to win his games. Cates is a good ball player and can take care of an infield position as well as some regulars in the game. But he was pounded hard at times by the Browns and had little chance to slip over a trickey victory.

Stone Gets Home Run.

George Stone opened the very first inning for the Browns with a home-run drive, the longest hit of the season at Sportsman's Park. It went in a line to the deepest corner of Mr. Hedges' yard and before it could be recovered and relayed in, Stone had rounded third base and was going home in a canter.

Then until the seventh inning Cates was splendid and it was thought the home run of Stone would be the only tally of the game. Young Bailey was trimming the strong batters of Washington with comparative ease.

In the seventh, however, the Browns uncorked another run. With one gone Charley Jones made first when McBride erred. Tom Jones laced a hot one to left center and Charley sprinted to third, beating the ball there by a hair. Ferris shot a short fly ball to Ganley in left and Bob carried it part way in letting Jones get a big start on him. Then, when he saw his blunder after Jones beat his throw to the plate, he further opened himself to derision by claiming Jones had left the bag before the catch was made. Stephens' grounder to Delehanty ended the inning.

Bailey Out in Eighth.

The eighth saw the finish of Bailey when the Senators tied up the score. McBride opened with a grounder to Hartzell and Roy booted it. That seemed to take the confidence out of Bailey. He had to pitch a different kind of ball then and lost his control. Shipke was passed. Cates sacrificed. Milan drove out a single to left and McBride and Shipke scampered home, tying the score. Ganley then bunted safely, Bailey making a feeble attempt to field the ball, and at that point he was benched and Dinneen called in.

Dinneen hit Delehanty with the first ball he pitched and that filled the bases. However, Clymer smashed to Hartzell and Milan was forced at the plate and Street ended the disaster with a liner to Williams.

In their half of the eighth the Browns won the game. Stone doubled and scored on Hoffman's single. Milan threw over Street's head trying to cut off Stone and Danny went to third, then came home on the tear when Street threw into left field trying to chop him at third.

Crusinberry's Comment On the Game

If George Stone would turn his bat the other way and strike the ball with the handle we think he wouldn't make so many base hits.

If Bailey would stand taller in the box he would pitch better ball. He only stands 5 feet 11 now, and 6 feet 4 would help him to stop high bounders over his head. This is only a suggestion from a fan.

Dan Hoffman hooked a couple of singles and his last one drove home the winning run. More power to you, Danny.

Milan is an imitator of George Stone. He has the same crouch at the plate and he whipped out a couple of singles yesterday in true Stone fashion.

Have you noticed that Hobe Ferris is picking up in hitting?

Charley Jones would have had three hits yesterday instead of two, but McBride turned robber in the second inning and grabbed off a hot one that Charley had labeled for the center field green.

Jerry Freeman is having his troubles batting in the American League. He was a mighty swatter in the American Association, but the left-handed pitchers of the big league have his goat.

Rube Waddell will pitch the final game against the Senators. He worked out in splendid shape yesterday.

If Bobby Wallace will strengthen the Browns when he gets back in the game it seems they should go into the lead of the League. Bobby will be back in a few more days. He works out every morning with the team and his hand is nearly well again.

Jimmy Williams had a liner directed for the Post-Dispatch weather bird in the sixth inning, but Milan's speedy legs carried him in front of the ball.

Only two Washington runners dared attempt to steal second yesterday and they were both pegged out by Jimmy Stephens.

Ollie Pickering was doing bench duty yesterday and Milan took his place in center field. It looks as though "Pick" will have his troubles in retaining a regular place on the team.

LATE RING GOSSIP BY WIRE.

By JOHN POLLOCK.

NEW YORK, June 11.

After the 6-round fight between Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Jack Blackburn, in Philadelphia last night, Jim Coffroth, the fight promoter, went into O'Brien's dressing room and asked him if he would meet Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, in a 45-round bout at his Colma Club on Labor Day. O'Brien told him that he was undecided, but would answer either today or tomorrw.

George Memsic, the Chicago lightweight, who fought "Young Donohue" a 12-round draw at the Armory Athletic Association of Boston on Tuesday night, will not be able to fight again for six weeks. He broke his left hand in the first round of the contest, which he claims prevented him from winning decisively over Donohue. He will have his hand examined under the X-ray today to find out how badly he is injured. Memsic made a great impression with the fight fans of Boston.

Matty Baldwin, the Boston lightweight, has been barred from fighting at the Armory Athletic Association of Boston. Matty signed articles to fight Grover Hayes of Philadelphia at the next show of the club on June 16, but he wired Matchmaker Miah Murphy on Tuesday night, calling off the contest. The club officials have decided not to use Baldwin again at any of their shows.

"Spike" Robson, the English lightweight, will sail for England on Saturday. He claims that the hot weather in this country does not agree with him. Robson cleaned up close to $1500 in this country. Spike will return to America again in the fall and will be ready to take on Tommy Murphy or any of the other good boys.

Leach Cross, who has been making a great name for himself by the way he has been beating all the good fighters he has met at the local stags for several months, will meet two lightweights, each for six rounds, at the Roman Athletic Club tomorrow night. His opponents have not been selected as yet, but Matchmaker Fox will get the best fighters he can to exchange wallops with Leach. Cross will try to stop both of them.

Realizing that a victory over Johnny Frayne, the California lightweight champion, in their six-round bout at the stag of the Fairmount Athletic Club of the Bronx tomorrow night, will enable him to get on some big matches, Amby McGarry, the lightweight of the Bronx, is working harder to get into condition than he has for any fight he has had for some time. Amby is confident he will beat Frayne, and has tipped his friends to back him.

Tommy Murphy began training today at the New Polo Athletic Association for his six-round bout with Fighting Dick Hyland, which is carded at the Sharkey Athletic Club at Bath Beach, a week from tonight. They fought a great six-round battle in Philadelphia nine months ago, Murphy having the better of the go. As Hyland is anxious to wipe out that beating he will fight his hardest to beat Tommy.

YANKEE SCULLER IS WANTED FOR THE OLYMPIAD

Canada May Be Sole Representative of Western Hemisphere.

TWO ANXIOUS TO GO

Bennett and Miller May Contest in Preliminary Race for Honor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Even should America not be represented in the Henley races, the Western Hemisphere will have an entrant. Lou Scholes of Toronto, Canada, has already sent in his entry to the Olympic committee. The winner of the Diamond sculls is a sure starter in the event, and on form appears to have an excellent chance to win the trophy.

Since the decision of the American Olympic Rowing Committee however, that owing to lack of funds it would be impossible to send an eight across the pond to compete in the races on the Thames, oarsmen throughout the country have been agitating the sending of a sculler to represent this country. So far nothing definite has been done, but it is very possible that America will follow the example of Canada and send a sculler to uphold the prestige of this country in the rowing events.

Just who this man will be, if the committee decides it advisable to send a man to the Henley races, is not known. There are three men in the field in the light of possible candidates, any one of whom would have a good chance to carry away the honors in a sculling event. They are Harry Bennett, present holder of the national title; Frank B. Greer, a former holder of the championship trophy, and Durando Miller, winner of the races for senior scullers at the American Henley and Harlem River regattas.

Of the three possibilities, Greer may be counted out. The former champion has practically signified his intention of quitting the rowing game.

SULLIVAN SAILS TODAY TO ENGLAND FOR OLYMPIC

NEW YORK, June 11.—James E. Sullivan, secretary of the American Olympic Convention, sails for England today on the Baltic and will remain in London until after the close of the athletic events in the British stadium, which will be about Aug. 1.

After Mr. Sullivan reaches London he will look into the arrangements already made for the teams' training quarters. If the location is not suitable a better place will be found somewhere near the scene of action. Mr. Sullivan said:

"The English officials will run that meet themselves, and they are well able. If the Olympic officials from the different countries are present, and—there will be 23 nations represented in all—they will be sitting in boxes nice and comfortable, watching the games.

"The team will stay together at one hotel, and if that proves too small we intend to hire another. The boys will not see London or the sights till the games are over. Then I intend to do a little sightseeing myself. I have planned to see Ireland and to go to see Maurice Davin, father of the Gaelic Athletic Association and one of the athletic curiosities of the present generation."

KANSAS CITY ATHLETES ARE AGAIN SUSPENDED

Delaney Failed to Meet W. A. A. U. Requirements, It Is Said.

The Board of Governors of the Western Division of the A. A. U. suspended 38 Kansas City athletes as the result of a resolution by the members of the Registration Committee recommending that they be suspended. The Board of Governors suspended the men at a meeting held at the Central Y. M. C. A. last night.

Some time ago the Kansas City men were suspended, but later reinstated. The reason for the suspension was that they were not registered for the Kansas City A. C. meet held in Kansas City on March 20. At the time Martin A. Delaney was given 30 days in which to register the men in question, in which case the suspension would be raised. Delaney failed to register the men, according to the officials of the W. A. A. U., and the second suspesion last night is the result.

CIRCULAR COURSE FOR THE 15-MILE CYCLE CONTEST

Handicaps for the 15-mile bicycle race to be held in Forest Park Saturday afternoon will be allotted at a meeting to be held at 3924 Olive street this evening.

The course for the race will be near the Art Museum, in the western part of the park. The men will ride about on an almost circular course, so that the spectators can see the riders practically all of the time. H. Bigelow, a fast Chicago man, has entered the race. The three McCreas from Springfield, Ill., as well as Bert Harding, a former St. Louisan, who is now residing in Chicago, insure a hard contest.

Brain Should Be Kept Active.

From the London Lancet.

The decay of any real power of thinking is an adequate explanation of a deal of the early mortality of prosperous middle life. The business man of 40 is often content to live in the mere practice, as a matter of habit, of what he has acquired. He eats and drinks too much, and the higher brain centers waste for want of exercise. He dies from stupidity; there is nothing left to keep him alive.

CHAMPION GANS WHO SAYS IT IS FIGHT SOON OR QUIT RING

Yes, Swat Milligan Did Once Play in Tie Game

Bozeman Bulger, Sporting Department, Post Dispatch.
I am told that Swat Milligan never lost a game, but, while traveling out West, I was informed that he once figured in a tie. Is that true? (Signed) A. K. EVANS, Park Hill, N. Y.

It is true that Mr. Milligan once played in a game which resulted in a tie, but it was only an exhibition game, and the result did not count in the official standing of the clubs. The incident might be interesting to some of those who have forgotten the details.

The Poison Oaks agreed to play a club called the Uncracked Acorns to raise funds for a St. Patrick's day parade. Naturally Milligan was the great drawing attraction of the day. To give him zest to the sport a local saloonkeeper placed a keg of beer on third base and any player reaching that corner on a hit was entitled to a cooling drink. Ordinarily Milligan was a stickler for temperance, but this day he decided to take a glass just to be democratic.

In the eighth inning neither team had scored, and a member of the committee implored Swat to cut loose. He did, Harold Hangover, who was pitching for the Uncracked Acorns, deep down in his craven heart had determined to catch Swat unawares and strike him out. Mr. Milligan discovered the plot and suddenly braced up. His eye, however, rested fondly on the keg which looked so inviting at third. He had come to bat with his trusty old home-run stick, and was shaking it menacingly. Hangover, thinking Swat was using his three-base bat, took no precautions, and sent an out curve whizzing toward the plate.

"C-r-a-c-k!" Swat had unlimbered for fair. The ball, going like a six-pound shot, took a northeasterly course and cleared the fence by four feet. A herd of cattle were grazing on the distant prairie and the ball hit right among them. The fielders started in wild pursuit. The rule being still in vogue that the batter could keep scoring until the ball was recovered, Milligan started on his chase around the bags. For one time, though, he completely forgot himself, so bent was he on frivolity. He started toward third instead of first. Before his attention had been called to the error Milligan had made 200 runs, going around the bases in reverse style. He then turned and started back the other way. An hour later nothing had been heard from the fielders, and, deciding to take things easy, Milligan figured on quitting after making 500 runs. As Swat had finished his 199th lap, going in the correct way, a loud shout was heard from the entrance.

The fielders were returning with the ball.

When they had reached the herd of cattle the ball had been found sticking on the horn of an old milch cow. They immediately gave chase. The cow, becoming frightened, tore out for home, and it was there the fielders finally corralled her, and dislodged the ball.

Hurrying to the park with the trophy, they entered the gate with victorious shouts. As Fielder McGluck rushed to the plate with the ball Swat was just coming in on his two hundredth lap since he had changed directions.

Walking to the plate Umpire Kirk solemnly declared the game a tie.

"What do you mean?" demanded Milligan, in a withering voice. "The Uncracked Acorns haven't even scored."

"That is true, Mr. Milligan," replied the umpire, "but as you made 200 runs going backwards we just subtract that from the 200 you made going right. As that leaves nothing for you, and the Acorns had nothing to begin with, the game is a tie."

That is probably the incident to which you refer.

(Signed) BOZEMAN BULGER.

Undoubtedly there are a number of photographs or drawings of Swat Milligan, boy and man, as well as his parents scattered around the country. We would be glad to reproduce these if you will send them to Bozeman Bulger, Post-Dispatch. If you have lost the originals a drawing from memory will suffice.

CORNELL CREW NOW SELECTED

Ithicans Will Have Only One Veteran in Boat at Poughkeepsie.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 11.—The clouds which have been hanging over the Cornell rowing camp for several months were suddenly swept aside today when Coach Courtney announced that he was satisfied with his present varsity combination, and that, barring accidents or illness, the crew would row for Cornell at Poughkeepsie.

With a cheer the men who have worked in the face of the worst discouragement and obstacles that any Cornell crew ever encountered, heard the news and there was a happy gathering at the training table. The Cornell crew is made up as follows: Bow, Smith; 2, Stone; 3, Clark; 4, Backus; 5, Stevens; 6, Horton; 7, Williams; stroke, Cox; coxswain, Clark.

Cox is the only veteran in the boat. Stevens has never rowed before this year. Williams, Horton, Stone and Smith were in the jurnor varsity crew, and Clark rowed in the freshman boat two years ago. Stevens, Clark, Backus and Cox rowed against Harvard. Britton, Bayer, Crawford and Kelly are likely men for the four-oared crew. The varsity is now rowing in good form and the speed of the boat is more promising.

In the language of Coach Courtney, "Cornell is not dead yet."

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

MORE CHANGES IN YALE BOAT

Elis Trying Hard for Winning Combination in the Harvard Race.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 11.—A three-quarter mile brush between the varsity and freshmen eights and a mile race between the varsity fours, were the features of the morning's work of the Yale crews.

Several changes were made in the four-oared crews and they now row as follows: No. 4, Wallis; 3, Miller; 2, Robbins; bow, Townsend. No. 4, Godley; 3, Congdon; 2, Glenny; bow, Wodell.

In the brush with the freshmen the varsity eight won easily by several lengths.

Coach Kennedy again has changed the four-oared crews around so that they are now rowing as they were first placed in the boats: Stroke, Wallis; 3, Miller; 2, Godley; bow, Wodell.

Stroke, Robbins; 3, Congdon; 2, Glenny; bow, Townsend.

The four-oared crews went down the river as far as the Navy Yard late in the afternoon, making no attempt at speed.

The varsity and freshmen crews rowed down the river for two and a half miles. On the return they had a dash of two miles, the varsity winning by several lengths.

Livingston, captain of the freshmen eight, who has been out of the boat for several days, was put in at stroke, and Bogue, who has been rowing at stroke, moved to No. 6. Julian Curtis has arrived at the quarters and will remain for a few days.

OTHER COLLEGE GAMES

Yale Would Have Whitewashed Louisiana State but for Error.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 11.—Harvard shut out Cornell at baseball here yesterday by a score of 1 to 0 in one of the best games of the season.

Hartford and Moonson played the leading roles for Harvard. The former pitched a no-hit game, struck out 12 men and only gave three bases on balls, while Aronson made a home run in the sixth inning, which spelled victory.

Gable pitched a strong game for Cornell, holding Harvard down to three hits, but the homer was fatal. Both teams fielded cleanly. The score:

YALE FINDS EASY OPPONENT IN LOUISIANA STATE NINE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 11.—Yale defeated Louisiana State College by the score of 7 to 1. The only run made by the visitors was a gift of Cushman, who was playing third base in the absence of Williams.

Louisiana scored in the sixth, Hochenedell made a three-base hit and Cushman, to whom it was fielded, threw wild to Rose, Hochenedell coming in. Score:

JOE GANS IS TO QUIT THE RING IN SEPTEMBER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Joe Gans, the champion lightweight of the world, is surely going to retire from the ring in September. He made this announcement last night, and also stated that he really meant it this time.

After his 45-round fight with Battling Nelson, on July 4, at Colma, Cal., Gans will issue a challenge to fight the winner of the Packey McFarland-Freddie Welsh battle for the title, on Labor Day.

If the victor declines to take him on, then he will immediately quit the game forever. Gans says he is getting too old to fight, but wants to engage in these two battles.

LUSH IN BEST FORM AGAINST HIS OLD TEAM

Cardinals Score 1 to 0 Victory at Philadelphia, by Kindly Errors of Quakers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Johnny Lush had the delightful experience yesterday of beating his old team-mates, the Phillies. Johnny pitched as grand a game of baseball as he ever did in his life, and in 10 innings led the St. Louis Cardinals to a victory over the home team by a score of 1 to 0. If it had not been for a wild heave by Grant of the local team, Mr. Lush and Mr. Sparks might have battled on until the sun had set and the darkness gathered.

The ability to stick in such a tight game was a delight to Manager McCloskey, who directs the young players from St. Louis. When they can win the close games like that it makes him hopeful. They stuck to the finish yesterday and really outgamed the Phillies.

Lush had a shade the better of Sparks in the pitching. Only four hits were made from his twisters, while the Cardinals slapped out seven on Sparks. For nine innings the game went on in desperate fashion, good fielding and excellent pitching preventing a score on either side.

In the tenth Grant threw wild to first when O'Rourke sent a grounder to him, and little Joe got to third base. Billy Gilbert then whacked a double to deep center field and O'Rourke trotted home with the one run that was plenty to win the game.

Salle or Karger is expected to perform in the pitcher's box today for the Cardinals, as Lush's left-handed curves seem so effective.

Sheriff Enjoined From Serving.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., June 6.—Sheriff David Smith, Democrat, enjoined from performing the duties of his office as the result of claims set up by J. M. Renshaw, Republican claimant, has obtained temporary possession of the office through the dissolution of the injunction by Judge T. P. Cook, who has recognized Smith as his court officer.

SOCIETY MAN IS FIGHTER'S SECOND

Biddle Aids Jack O'Brien, Who Fights a Negro at Philadelphia.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Dividing honors today in the hearts of Philadelphians with "Jack" O'Brien, who worsted Jack Blackburn, a negro, in a six-round boxing match, is Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, millionaire son of one of the city's first families.

To Drexel Biddle's deft work with the bottle, sponge and towel is ascribed no less than to O'Brien's jabs and punches the victory. When Biddle first appeared at the arena he was in irreproachable evening dress. His next appearance was minus all those decorations, and were it not for his nicely waxed mustache he would have passed as the typical "tough" citizen who handles the sponge.

With Biddle when he appeared in the ring was O'Brien. No dingy old bathrobe for him. 'Twas a silk kimono. Then came the dusky Blackburn and his train of blackamoors. Then the discovery! Peering across the ring, Biddle descried a white powder in the hands of the negro.

"Ha! ha!" he cried. "A plot." And then he reported to O'Brien. "Plaster of paris on his hands, sir," he said. "Deuced unclubby."

O'Brien and Biddle protested.

"Go long, white man, that's talcum powder. It shorely done wipe off soon," was the reply and peace was restored. Then hostilities really began.

For six rounds O'Brien jabbed and ducked and for six rounds Mr. Biddle swung towel and bottle.

O'Brien outweighed his opponent 15 pounds and had all the advantage in height and reach.

SAVANNAH AUTO RACE IS TO BE RUN THANKSGIVING

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Contest Committee of the Automobile Club of America announced this morning that the grand prize race, to be run in opposition to the Vanderbilt Cup race, will be held on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 26, in Savannah. It will be over the beautiful 400-mile course in Chatham County, Georgia.

Under orders of the Governor, Hoke Smith of Georgia, the course will be guarded by the State militia.

There will be no limit to the number of cars each country may enter, as is stipulated for the Vanderbilt Cup race, but not more than three cars of any one make can be entered.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH was the scene of a brilliant wedding Wednesday at 5 o'clock p. m., when Miss May Filley and Mr. Ralph Simpkins were married by the Rev. Dr. D. Claiborne Garrett in the presence of several hundred friends and relatives. Pink flowers, roses and peonies, with palms and ferns, decorated the altar and chancel. The bride wore a white satin messaline empire robe, with garniture of rose point lace. Orange blossoms secured the long illusion veil and lilies and ferns formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Frances Filley, Miss Beth Prewitt, Miss Olive Simpkins, Miss Katherine Semple, Miss Eleanor Filley, Miss Bessie Elliott, the bridemaids, wore similar gowns of white messaline satin over pink silk slips. They carried big bouquets of pink roses and wore picture hats of leghorn covered with pink and white plumes. A reception followed at the Filley home in Westmoreland place, where Mr. and Mrs. John Dwight Filley, the bride's father and mother, and Mrs. George Simpkins received with the bride and bridegroom. Mr. Simpkins and his bride departed the same evening for the West, where they will remain for a month. Upon their return they will be at the Filley home during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Filley.

The marriage of Miss Blanche Mepham, daughter of Mrs. M. Mepham of Flad avenue, and Mr. Thomas Everett Davis of the Washington Hotel, was celebrated Wednesday evening at the Tyler Place Presbyterian Church. The bride, wearing an Empire robe of white lace, entered with her uncle, Mr. E. E. Mepham, who gave her away. Miss Mollie Dunn, in pale pink batiste and carrying bridemaid roses, attended as maid of honor. Mr. Davis had Mr. Frank Gorham as best man, and Messrs. W. Preston of New York, Charles Moffitt, R. Heed of Oklahoma and Edward Mead ushered. Mr. Davis and his bride went directly to their new home, 4376 West Pine boulevard. Later they will go East for several weeks.

The country home of Mrs. George Knight was the scene of a lawn party Wednesday. The "Book Club" held its annual picnic on these spacious grounds. It was an "all-day" affair. A course dinner was served on the lawn. The guests were: Mmes. John Warner, Frank Amlar, Henry Breyman, Samuel Keiffer, Frank Orvis, Charles Bowman, Walter Michener, Harry Holden, Charles Jacoby, William Knight, Alfred King, Percy Walden, Al Rubelman, Joe Maserang, Wallace McCargo, George Shields, John Lynn, Charles Williams, John Roth, George Knight; Misses Annie Holman, Elizabeth Swan of Kirkwood, Nellie Holman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fife Woodward of Humphrey street will depart within a fortnight for New York, where they will in future make their home.

Invitations have been issued for the commencement exercises of the Kroeger School of Music Friday afternoon and evening, June 19, at the Musical Art Hall.

Miss M. Bruce Tucker of Kirkwood has left on a short visit to Indianapolis, prior to her entrance in the senior class of Rush Medical University, Chicago, where she will finish her studies.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Toomey and their son Nixon Toomey leave Thursday evening for a prolonged stay in Europe. They sail June 20 from Montreal, after an extended tour Nixon Toomey will pursue his studies abroad.

Mrs. Henry W. Clark of 5207 West Morgan street is visiting in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Street and their family will summer at Wequetonsing.

Mrs. F. M. Estes of Parkland place entertained the Robert Franz Club Saturday.

Judge and Mrs. Henry Bond and Miss Irene Bond will spend the summer in the North. They will remain the greater part of the time at Wequetonsing, where they have a cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsons Pettus of 39 Westmoreland place departed this week to take possession of their summer home at Wequetonsing.

The Zeta Beta Psi Society, whose members are graduates of the 1908 Mary Institute class, were entertained at the Country Club Wednesday with a luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Spear and Miss Gladys Spear of 5121 Washington boulevard departed Tuesday for Wequetonsing, where they will summer.

St. Louis friends have received invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. Randolph E. Lee of Jefferson City for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Nellie See, and Mr. Curtis Aaron Betts of St. Louis, on Tuesday evening, June 23, at the home of the bride's parents, at 9 o'clock. Mr. Betts is a well-known newspaper man. The engagement of Miss See and Mr. Betts was announced recently at a tea given by Mrs. Lon V. Stephens at her Cabanne home.

Mr. and Mrs. Betts will be at home after July 20 at the Windermere Hotel.

The marriage of Miss Nellie McKeighan and Mr. Norman Lombard of Kansas City was solemnized Wednesday evening at the Oaks, the McKeighan suburban home. The Rev. Dr. Skilling officiated. Mr. Lombard and his bride will make their future home in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Lombard and Mr. Arthur Lombard, parents and brother of the bridegroom, were out-of-town guests at the wedding. Mr. Arthur Lombard served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Schuster, 4435 West Pine boulevard, will be at home Sunday afternoon and evening in honor of the graduation of their daughter, Miss Lucille, from Central High School.

The alumnae of St. Joseph's Academy gave a luncheon at the Hamilton Hotel Thursday.

Miss Kate Jones has returned from a brief visit to Alton.

the one coffee on the market today that is emblematic of purity. We have taken the best and most perfectly grown coffee that we can procure and by solely mechanical means have removed from the berry the chaff which contains to a large degree a form of poisonous, bitter tasting tannic acid. The coffee that has thus been refined and purified is known as

PURI-TAN-ATED BRAND COFFEE

Because from this brand has been eliminated the obnoxious, useless elements, that which is left is stronger in those essentials which go to make up good coffee. It is for this reason that thousands of physicians who have investigated are prescribing "Puri-tan-ated" to their patients. They have learned that it can be used without danger of bad after effects. They buy it and drink it themselves and agree unanimously with all other coffee lovers that it has no equal. Look into the subject.

Ryan Talks

It used to be said in Wall Street that "Ryan doesn't talk."

In this week's SATURDAY EVENING POST Thomas F. Ryan departs from the traditions of silence that made him the Sphinx of Wall Street, and talks, to the extent of two pages and more—talks freely and pointedly.

He tells how Paul Morton came to be president of the Equitable; he shows why a high tariff is wrong; he explains how President Roosevelt has performed one of the greatest public services ever achieved by an occupant of the White House. He—but get this week's issue, and read what he says.

There's another Vaiti the Queen story in the same issue.

BANK COMMERCE MONOPOLIZES STOCK MARKET

Trading at First Session of 'Change Confined to This Issue.

Forty shares of Bank of Commerce stock was the extent of the trading at the first session of the St. Louis Stock Exchange Thursday. They changed hands at the same figures at which the stock was sold Wednesday. Outside of these few transactions there was intense dullness in the market. This condition will probably prevail until the New York stock market becomes more active.

LIVESTOCK.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., June 11.—Estimated receipts today compare with a week and a year ago as follows:

	Today.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Cattle	4,500	3,200	5,900
Hogs	8,000	12,400	6,100
Sheep	1,500	1,200	3,600
Horses and mules	125	150	175

NATIVE CATTLE—The supply today was very light, only about 900 head being received, and but few steers were included. A load of prime yearlings weighing around 1150 pounds sold at $7.50, the highest price paid since 1902. Other beef steers sold from $6 to $7.25. The market was active and prices 25c higher.

Good butcher cattle also sold actively at 10@15c higher prices, while the common stuff sold steady. Good cows sold at $5.50, heifers at $6.25, bulls at $5.50 and calves at $6.

The stocker and feeder trace was quiet. There was a fair inquiry, but the supply was very light.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—The supply in the quarantine division was again liberal, about 3600 head, and the quality averaged better than on previous days. Trading was active for all classes, and desirable steers, cows and heifers sold readily at 10@15c higher prices, while the lightweight steers and common qualitied cows and heifers sold at a steady range of prices.

The day's sales included meal-fed Texas steers at $6.50, cake-fed steers at $5@6, grass-fed steers at $3.95@5, Texas beefers at $5.35, cows at 4.25; bulls, at $3.75 and Arkansas steers at $4.45@4.60, mixed lots at $3.20@2.75, cows and heifers at $4 and calves and yearlings from $2@5.

HOGS—The supply was moderate and the demand good so that the market opened quite active and prices were 10c higher than the average market yesterday, the top reaching $5.60 and the bulk of the desirable hogs sold at $5.45@5.55. Good heavy hogs were the best sellers, as the buyers have not been able for more than a week to get as many heavy hogs as they wanted.

Light weight mixed hogs were slow sale and there was no improvement at all on the common to fair grade pigs and lights, buyers not wanting them at any price. A good many pigs and lights from Southwest territory sold at $3@4, and right fair light hogs sold at $4@4.75, with the better ones bringing $5@5.45. Good butcher hogs sold at $5.55 or higher, and the packers bought a good many hogs at $5.52½@5.60, but they also secured a good many plain hogs at $5.40@5.50.

SHEEP—Again the supply of sheep was small and the market showed a gain of 15@25c, so that the market is now close to $1 higher than at the close of last week. Buyers were anxious for sheep and they purchased them quite rapidly, so that the supply was cleaned up early. Good spring lambs sold at $7@7.50, clipped lambs at $6@6.40, mutton sheep at $5@5.40 and bucks at $3.25@4. Fully three times the number on sale were needed to meet the demand.

HORSES AND MULES—A fair proportion of the supply amounting to about 100 head on sale in the auction today represented good kinds and buyers with incomplete consignments were active competitors. Inferior stuff remained slow and dull.

The commission pens were practically cleaned up yesterday. Five head of plain offerings were carried over. The feeling is duller on classes qualifying for the Government contract, as the order is about filled.

New York Money.

NEW YORK, June 11.—There was absolutely no change in the local money market Wednesday. Call money continued in abundant supply at 1½@1¾ per cent, but in the time loan department business was practically at a standstill. Brokers reported a moderate demand for six to eight months money, but for the nearby maturities there is very little inquiry. Money from 60 to 90 days' was offered rather freely, but borrowers are inclined to take advantage of the low rates prevailing for call money rather than to commit themselves for fixed periods. Sixty-day money is quoted at 2 per cent, 90 days' at 2¼@2½ per cent, four months' at 2¼@2¾ per cent, five months' at 3@3¼ per cent, six months' at 3½ per cent and over the year at 4 per cent. Some business in six months' money and over the year funds is reported at the above quoted rates. Mercantile paper is moderately active both locally and out of town, and, according to specialists, more paper could be sold than is coming upon the market. The market for 60 and 90-day indorsements is quoted at 3¾@4¼ per cent and for the best single names at 4@4¼ per cent.

The banks continue to gain substantially on their operations with the Subtreasury, the local institutions gaining Monday $988,000, making a total gain since last Friday $2,265,000, as compared with a gain of $804,000 in the corresponding time last week. The Subtreasury was a debtor at the Clearing House yesterday for $2,543,918, the large balance being due principally to the redemption of National bank notes.

RAILROAD NEWS AND GOSSIP

The Wall Street Summary says: "George J. Gould spent a strenuous day Monday at his office in conference with the officials of most of the roads in the Gould system, preparatory to a brief European trip. Contrary to published statements this morning that he would be abroad two months, Mr. Gould said that he expected to be in Europe only about two weeks and to be gone from New York only about four weeks. When asked for a statement of his opinion of general conditions, he said:

"'I am not going away feeling pessimistic, but on the contrary, I feel hopeful regarding the outlook and confidently believe that a little later on we will see a general improvement in business. So far as our lines are concerned, my private advices indicate that crop conditions are excellent. The winter wheat crop is practically, if not actually, assured. We have an excellent corn acreage, but, of course, it is as yet much too early to speak definitely about that crop, except as to acreage.'"

As a result of the resignation of Harry Huntington as general agent, passenger department of the Erie Railroad, at Buffalo N. Y., and subsequent promotions, F. S Howard has been appointed division passenger agent at Elmira, succeeding J. H. Webster. H. T. Harlow succeeds Mr. Howard as city passenger and ticket agent at Cincinnati, O., and L. F. McFarland has been appointed traveling passenger agent at Kansas City, Mo., in place of Mr. Harlow.

WALL STREET SECURITIES CLOSE WEAK

Entire Market Inactive in One of the Most Stagnant Sessions on Record.

NEW YORK, June 11, 10 a. m.—The opening of the market this morning was marked by somewhat irregular trading. Influenced by the intense dullness of the last two days, price movements in the early trading were slow, and showed very little variation from the closing quotations. Atchison, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific and Pennsylvania were unchanged. The smallest fractional advances were recorded in C. & O., St. Paul, Reading and Union Pacific, while B. R. T., Great Northern, New York Central and Canadian Pacific were about the same amount lower. In the industrials there was about an even break between gains and losses, Anaconda and the Steels being ⅛ off, while Smelting and Amalgamated were from ¼ to ⅝ higher.

At the end of the first half hour very little business had been transacted. The influence of the Chicago convention still hangs over the market.

What little trading was done was in the direction of lower prices. Union Pacific declined ½, Southern Pacific ⅛, Reading ¼, Missouri Pacific ½, Northern Pacific and Great Northern ⅜ each, while St. Paul and Atchison were unchanged. The only activity shown in the industrials was in Anaconda and Amalgamated Copper, and although there was scarcely any changes in these stocks at the end of the first half hour their tendency was downward.

Trading in the rail issues was exceedingly dull, Union Pacific showing what little activity there was. American stocks in London were steady and about parity.

NEW YORK, June 11, 12:30 p. m.—Comparatively speaking, business was at a standstill in the forenoon hours. The number of shares sold between the opening and noon was only 98,100, which is a low record for the present year. Fluctuations were, therefore, of an insignificant character.

Several of the prominent stocks made no changes, while the other alternated in an upward and downward movement.

The general tendency of the market seemed to be in the direction of lower prices.

The coppers averaged declines of ⅜, and the steels were unchanged. There was no business at all in Steel preferred, and very little in the common. B. R. T., St. Paul, Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific recorded fractional recessions. The Hill issues, New York Central and Pennsylvania made small gains.

STOCK GOSSIP

Call money on the New York Exchange opened at 1½ per cent Thursday.

STOCK GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The market is a very narrow professional affair, but for all that it is strong.

Heaviness in Interboro issues on the differences between the company and the public service commission based on the order of the latter requiring heavy expenditures.

NEW YORK, June 11.—It is understood in well-informed banking quarters that the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad will soon issue $13,000,000 4-per-cent debenture bonds. It is expected that these bonds will be brought out next week. They probably will be handled by J. P. Morgan & Co.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Western Union dividend of ¾ per cent is payable July 15. Books close June 20.

The 1-per-cent dividend on Union Bag & Paper preferred is payable July 15, to record of June 30.

Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington has declared its regular semi-annual dividend of 2-per-cent.

ST. LOUIS MONEY MARKET.

St. Louis bankers say that there is still an absence of inquiry for funds from any source whatever. Until the crops begin to move there is every reason to believe there will be no increased activity in the credit operations of local institutions. Funds are still offering at 5 per cent, with 4½ per cent freely bid for three to four months when wanted.

New York Stock Quotations.

FINANCIAL ITEMS

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Wall Street Journal says: "The Wabash appears to be in control of the situation. As nearly as can be told at this time, the outcome of the receivership of the Wheeling and of the Terminal company will be, as was forecasted by Dow, Jones & Co. a week ago, a consolidation of the Wheeling and the Terminal company, the consolidated company to be dominated by the Wabash Railroad.

"The receivership of the Wheeling company does anything but alleviate the position of the first and second mortgage bondholders of the Wabash Pittsburg Terminal. For several years part of the security of the first mortgage bonds of the Wabash Pittsburg Terminal has been 'control of the Wheeling & Lake Erie,' a very high sounding phrase, but one which now, with the receivership of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, begins to fade away.

"For, of course, with the receivership of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, there is grave danger of the elimination of a part, if not all, of the stock of the Wheeling company, a majority of which is owned by the Terminal company.

"Now the position of the $8,000,000 of the Wheeling company notes, which mature August next, appears to be safe. They are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Wabash Railroad. It must take care of them. The Wabash Railroad therefore practically dominates the Wheeling & Lake Erie, not by control of the Wabash Terminal, but by direct relationship. These notes are secured by $12,000,000 4-per-cent general mortgage bonds of the Wheeling."

Nearly all the Fall River mills are on full working time.

Subscriptions are being received in considerable volume for the new Union Pacific bonds offered by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and the indications point to a heavy subscription of the issue.

Nearly all the mines in the Hocking Valley are now working to their full capacity.

The London Bankers' Magazine reports a substantial increase in prices of securities during May, on the London Exchange.

Work was resumed in a partial manner Monday at the Westinghouse Air Brake plant at Wilmirding after a three-week shutdown.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Metal market closed quiet, steady. Commercial bar silver, 53⅜c; copper, lake, 12.87@13c; electrolytic, 12.62½@12.75. Lead, 4.47½@4.52½c. Money on call, 1½@1¾ per cent. Time money, 3¼ per cent for six months. Mercantile paper unquoted. Bar silver: London, 24⅝d; demand sterling, 486.85@485.90.

WHEAT DULL AT STEADY LEVELS

Prices Recovered From Opening Break and Thereafter Moved Slowly.

A moderate trade in wheat existed Thursday morning, under which prices ruled rather nervous, an initial decline being followed by a strengthening tendency, after which prices were dull at levels about net unchanged. The weather has improved greatly and is now generally favorable, with like conditions reported in foreign countries, which with the very weak cables caused general selling at the start. Liverpool wheat closed 1⅛@1½d lower, with declines also noted on the Continent, but after prices had sold down a fraction the offerings ceased, and a scattered demand from the shorts sufficed to carry prices up to firm levels. The cash and export trades continue almost stagnant, with the output of Minneapolis mills smaller, but a very large decrease in the supply of breadstuffs of the world was reported. Receipts at most markets continue light.

July wheat opened ⅛@½c lower at 83⅞c, sagged to 83⅝c, advanced to 83¾c, declined to 83⅝c, advanced to 84⅝c, and declined to 84¼c. September wheat opened ⅝c lower at 82⅜c, fluctuated between 82⅜c and 82½c, declined to 82¼c, was bid up to 83⅛@83⅝c and sagged to 82⅝c.

Minneapolis stocks decreased 390,000 bu for five days. Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg cars combined were 234, against 491 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 316,000 bu, with shipments of 341,000 bu, and local receipts were 39,000 bu, with shipments of 17,000 bu.

July corn opened unchanged at 67⅛c, declined to 67⅝c, advanced to 68⅛c, and was offered down to 67⅝c. September corn started with offerings ⅛c lower at 64⅝c, was bid up to 65c and was offered down to 64⅝c.

September oats were offered ¼c lower at 35c.

The wedding will take place in East St. Louis next Thursday. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. E. C. Harris, pastor of the Lansdowne Christian Church.

At a meeting Wednesday night the members of the Knights of Columbus of East St. Louis completed arrangements for the trip to Waterloo next Sunday to assist in instituting a new lodge. The party will leave the Relay Depot at 9 a. m. and will be accompanied by lodges from Belleville, Granite City, Alton, Litchfield, Carlinville and St. Louis. The first degree work at the institution will be exemplified by the Tri-Cities team, the second degree by East St. Louis and the third degree by Belleville. A banquet by the new council will close the festivities. The visitors will return to their homes Sunday night.

Six special cars will leave the City Hall Park at 6 o'clock this evening to take the members of the East St. Louis Commercial Club to Priester's Park, where the monthly dinner and banquet will be held.

Elmer Miller, a brakeman on the Illinois Central Railroad, fell from a car near New Athens Wednesday night and was injured internally. He was brought to East St. Louis and taken to his home, 110 North Seventh street.

The funeral of Mollie Morris, the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morris of 418 Converse avenue, who died on Wednesday, was held Thursday afternoon from the residence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

Where Are the Want Ad Poets?

If you think you can answer for one, send your best efforts to the Want Ad Manager of the Post-Dispatch and receive credit, as was given in the following, which is a sample of what is wanted:

Join the crowd that goes to the store,
Just 'round the corner or perhaps next door.
They're going to the druggist to insert an ad
In the Post-Dispatch, where results can be had.

63 GRADUATE AT YEATMAN HIGH SCHOOL

Largest Class Ever Turned Out by This Institution Receives Diplomas.

Sixty-three students of the James E. Yeatman High School, composing the first class to complete the full four years' course there, were graduated at the fifth semi-annual commencement exercises in the Yeatman auditorium Thursday morning. The class is the largest ever graduated from the school.

The class was addressed by Prof. John W. Withers, principal of the Teachers' College.

At the conclusion of Prof. Withers' address Dr. Frank L. Magoon, president of the Board of Education, awarded the diplomas.

Dr. Magoon's address was responded to on the part of the graduates by Herbert Leo, president of the class.

Play Instead of Essays.

The exercises differed from those of other high schools in the omission of graduation orations and essays by members of the class, for which was substituted the production by members of the class of the Shakspearian play, "As You Like It," on May 22.

The class motto is "Good in Everything."

The graduates are:

1,000,000 RAILROAD TIES CARRIED AWAY BY KAW RIVER

Swollen Stream Breaks Through Embankment and Washes Away Tracks.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 11.—The Kaw broke out of the dam formed by the Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific bridges by cutting through the railway embankment just south of the Morris packing house.

The rush of water and drift through the new channel carried down a part of the elevated cattle chute leading from the packing house to the stockyards.

The current also cut a 40-foot gap through the track of the Union Pacific Railroad at the west approach to the bridge.

The Union Pacific had 1,000,000 railroad ties stored in its yard near the shops. The water lifted them in stacks of 100 and they were carried into the Kaw.

GIRL DELIVERS MAIL SO HER BROTHER MAY MARRY

Rides Over Twenty-Five-Mile Route Till She Knows It, Then Handles It Alone.

The men folks went to the gates to get the mail along rural free delivery route No. 1, near Marine, Ill., when Miss Frances Thornau appeared in the familiar one-horse wagon, in which her brother, Alfred C. Thornau, is accustomed to make the daily deliveries. Thornau was back on the route Thursday, telling the residents how he was married Wednesday while his sister covered the 25 miles of muddy roads in his place.

Thornau and Miss Louisa Miller wanted a June wedding, but were perplexed to know how he could get a day off from his duties, until his sister volunteered to substitute for him. She rode over the route with him until she knew it, then Wednesday handled horse and mail matter herself, while her brother and Miss Miller went to Edwardsville and were married by Justice Glass.
